Rajnath talks tough with his Chinese counterpart Shangfu

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

DEFENCE Minister Rajnath Singh on Thursday told his Chinese counterpart General Li Shangfu that violation of existing accords has eroded the entire basis of bilateral relations, adding all issues need to be resolved in accordance with the existing agreements.

Li is in New Delhi to attend a defence ministers' meeting of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) that begins on Friday. This was the first bilateral meeting between the two defence ministers since the May 2020 stand-off in Eastern Ladakh.

"The Defence Minister categorically conveyed that development of relations between India and China is premised on prevalence of peace and tranquility at the borders," the Ministry of Defence said in a statement.

All issues at the LAC need to be resolved in accordance with existing bilateral agreements and commitments, Rajnath emphasised. He reiterated that "violation of existing agreements has eroded the entire basis of bilateral relations and disengagement at the border will logically be followed with de-escalation."

Both sides had frank discussions about the developments in the India-China border areas as well as bilateral relations, the ministry added.

The India-China showdown in Eastern Ladakh began in May 2020 with a clash between Chinese and Indian soldiers at Finger 4 on the Northern Bank of the Pangong Lake. China then stationed its troops at multiple points along Eastern Ladakh, forcing the Indian Army to go for a mirror deployment in the area.

Though some disengagement happened after 17 rounds of talks between Corps Commanders of both sides, the stand-off continues at Depsang and Demchok areas. Tension along the 3,488 km long Line of Actual Control continues with clashes also at Yangtze area in Arunachal Pradesh in December last.

Earlier in the day, Rajnath had bilateral meetings with his counterparts from countries like Iran and Kazakhstan. At his meeting with Iran's Brigadier General Mohammed Reza Gharaei Ashtiyani, both sides reviewed their bilateral defence cooperation and exchanged views on regional security.

After 'venomous snake' jibe at PM, Kharge backtracks

BJP sees it as a 'turning point' ahead of May 10 Assembly polls in K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Gadag/Bengaluru

WITH less than a fortnight for the May 10 Assembly polls in Karnataka, AICC president Mallikarjuna Kharge on Thursday stoked a controversy by likening Prime Minister Narendra Modi to a "venomous snake". After coming under fire from the BJP, which is likely to make it a major election issue, Kharge and his party tried to control the damage by clarifying that it was not his intention to hurt anyone.

"Beware of mistaking him (Modi). Modi means a venomous snake and if you lick it wondering whether it is poisonous or not, you are dead. If you mistook it (poison) for a good thing since it is Modi, a good man and PM, has offered it, and lick it a little bit to test it, you get laid down there itself," he stated at a public rally, campaigning for Congress candidate GS Patil at Naregal in Gadag district.

Kharge also attacked Modi in the singular as a "greedy man who is hungry for power", who "shares dais with the corrupt despite speaking about curbing corruption". "He has come to destroy the country through his ideology," he remarked.

In a politically charged atmosphere, Kharge's remarks invited strong criticism from BJP leaders, with the controversy erupting just ahead of the PM's visit to the state on Saturday, to campaign for party candidates. With the BJP's rank and file lambasting Kharge, the party gave clear indications that it would make it a major issue.

The AICC president's remarks come at a time when the Congress is trying to keep the focus on local issues, while BJP is banking on Modi's rallies to turn the tide.

"The remarks about the PM show the Congress' culture," said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. CONTINUED ON: P4

'50% quota cap will go, free bus ride for K'taka women'

PRAKASH SAMAGA & DIVYA CUTINHO @Udupi/Mangaluru

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday said that the 50% cap on reservation will be removed if UPA comes to power at the Centre after the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. He announced free public transport for women if his party is voted to power in Karnataka.He made these announcements at the party rallies in Udupi and Mangaluru.

Interacting with fishermen at Uchila in Udupi, he said the 50% cap on reservation is not backed by any scientific data.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi speaks at a programme in Udupi on Thursday

He said of the 70 most powerful bureaucrats, who decide what the union government should do, only 7% belong to OBC, Dalit, tribal and minority communities.

He criticised PM Modi for not making caste census data public. "When UPA was in power, we did the caste census and the data is available with the Centre. But it is not releasing it. Data on caste is essential to solve the problems of people. The cap of 50% reservation has to be removed as it was not fixed on the basis of any scientific studies. But the PM does not agree to do that," he said.

Rahul promised that the Congress will provide Rs 10 lakh insurance to fishermen, Rs 1 lakh interest-free loan to fisherwomen and Rs 25 diesel subsidy for 500 litres per day, if voted to power in Karnataka.

To a query on fishermen's demand for loan waiver, he said that it is up to the next chief minister to decide. Trying to woo the fishermen community, Rahul said there should be a dedicated ministry for fisheries where fishermen could get their problems solved. P5

Amid outrage, don-politician Anand Mohan walks out of jail

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

TWO weeks after the Nitish-led government in Bihar diluted the state's Prison Manual, gangster-turned-politician Anand Mohan walked out of jail on Thursday amid protests by the family of a slain bureaucrat. The former Lok Sabha MP was serving a life sentence after being convicted in 2007 for killing an IAS officer in 1994.

On April 10, the Bihar government had amended the Prison Manual to do away with a clause that prohibited early release of those involved in killing a public servant on duty.

The Grand Alliance government apparently tweaked the prison manual to ensure early release of Anand, also a Rajput leader.

Rajputs constitute 6-8% of the state's population and are believed to have the potential to impact the poll outcome.

On Thursday, Anand walked out of Saharsa jail around 4.30 am though his release was expected at 7 am. According to sources, this was done to avoid media and assemblage of his supporters outside the jail.

In 1994, the then district magistrate of Gopalganj G Krishnaiah was beaten to death by a mob when his vehicle tried to overtake a funeral procession in Muzaffarpur district. Mohan was leading the procession.

EVACUATION ON, 2K INDIANS IN SUDAN TAKEN TO SAFE ZONES

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

NEARLY 2,000 of the estimated 3,500 Indians stuck in war-torn Sudan have been brought to safe zones as part of Operation Kaveri, Foreign Secretary Vinay Mohan Kwatra said here on Thursday.

But giving a specific timeline on when all Indians would be evacuated wouldn't be realistic at present as the 72-hour ceasefire in Sudan has not been honoured a few times, he added.

"We have managed to get around 2000 Indians in the safe zone. It includes the two flights which have brought in 360 evacuated passengers to Delhi via a Saudi Airlines charter flight and 246 evacuated passengers to Mumbai on a Indian Air Force aircraft. This number also includes the Indians we have been able to get from Khartoum to Port Sudan and those who have reached Jeddah," Kwatra said.

Those evacuated till now are Indians living around volatile zones. There are many others who don't want to leave yet. It includes PIOs (Persons of Indian origin) whose families migrated to Sudan nearly a century back. The estimated PIO count in Sudan is over 1,000.

Since the Indian Embassy in Khartoum is near the airport where maximum fighting is on, its staff are operating from elsewhere.

India has received requests from other countries as well, including Sri Lanka, to evacuate their citizens. The government has assured them of help after getting Indians back home.

Arranging additional flights is a pain point as there are many countries in the evacuation queue.

Will be double blow for K'taka without double engine govt: PM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday batted for continuation of BJP rule at the Centre and in Karnataka stating that people of the state will face hardships in the absence of the party's double-engine government. He was interacting with about 50 lakh BJP workers virtually in poll-bound Karnataka.

"In the past nine years, the country received a record investment. It also benefited Karnataka because of the double-engine BJP government. If there is no double-engine government, then the state will keep fighting with the Centre for everything. Development schemes will be sabotaged and there will be a delay in land acquisition for major infrastructure projects. All this will discourage investors. In the absence of a double-engine government, people of the state will face a double blow," he said.

Replying to a question of Fakeerappa from Chitradurga on the benefits of having the double-engine government, Modi said progress doubled in states which have such governments. CONTINUED ON: P5

SC's social rights nudge for same-sex couples

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday asked the Centre to find ways to accord basic social rights to same-sex couples, like opening joint bank accounts or nominating a partner in insurance policies for those in cohabitory relationships.

It, however, took the Centre's point that granting legal recognition to same-sex marriage is for Parliament to decide.

A five-judge bench headed by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud asked the Centre to come back on May 3 with its response on the social benefits that can be granted to same-sex couples even without recognising their marital status legally.

Referring to the old Privy Council principle according to which long cohabitation was itself is a presumption of marriage, the CJI said the recognition of the "right of cohabitation of same-sex couple" by the state as a fundamental right would also result in imposition of corresponding duty on the state to legally recognise social incidents of cohabitation.

"We take your point that if the court would go into the legislative arena, we'll be legislating and this is your (Centre's remit) and it is for Parliament. But what will the government do to ensure that these cohabitory relationships are recognised in terms of security, social welfare," the CJI said.

"Maybe we can act as facilitators. The relationship of the court with the government is not adversarial. We may not have the model within us and it may not be appropriate for us to devise that model. But we can certainly tell the government that look our law now has gone so far recognising such relationships," he said.

The bench asked the Centre to offer solutions after Solicitor General Tushar Mehta argued that although the right to love, cohabit, project sexual orientation and choose a partner was a fundamental right, seeking recognition of that relationship as marriage was not a fundamental right.

QUESTION OF INCEST

Laying emphasis on the fact that an individual's sexual orientation cannot be exercised in all aspects of marriage, including degrees of prohibited relationships, the CJI said it would be very far-fetched for someone to even argue that sexual orientation was so absolute as to allow incest

C'durga cops book man for sacrificing goats in public

PICTURE FOR REPRESENTATION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Chitradurga police have registered a First Information Report (FIR) against a man, who reportedly sacrificed three goats in full public view during Ugadi festival at Parasurampura village in Chitradurga district.

The FIR has been registered based on a complaint by People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA).

The incident in which the accused standing in front of the three frightened goats and beheading them one after the other with a sword-like weapon has been videographed, PETA stated in a press release issued here on Thursday.

PETA quoted the Supreme Court guidelines and said animals can be slaughtered only in licensed slaughterhouses.

"The Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Slaughter House) Rules, 2001 and the Food Safety Standards (Licensing and Registration of Food Businesses) Regulations, 2011, permit the slaughter of animals for food only in licensed slaughterhouses equipped with species-specific stunning equipment," the release said.

The FIR has been registered against the accused under Sections 3,4,5 and 6 of the Karnataka Prevention of Animal Sacrifices Act, Sections 34 and 429 of the IPC and Sections of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Locations in B'luru identified, patrolling ramped up as seizures go up

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

OF 224 assembly constituencies in Karnataka, Election Commission officials have identified 81 financially sensitive seats, and 52 financially sensitive locations in Bengaluru limits alone. The officials are still tabulating the list.

These locations in Bengaluru are smaller pockets where there are high chances of influencing voters, and areas where cash seizures are on the rise. The locations identified are not limited to economic strata but also population density.

Of the 28 constituencies in Bengaluru, 19 have been identified as financially sensitive ones, where EC officials and assigned agencies have deployed additional staffers for patrolling and vigilance.

"For the first time, special mobile squads have been planned for Bengaluru. These will be apart from the 200 flying squads and 130 checkpost teams, besides special teams of GST, central excise, police, transport, Income Tax and others. Since the Chief Election Commissioner has also noted that a lot of finances are involved in Karnataka, we are changing our strategies on the ground – constituency and location wise – to keep vigil. In just seven constituencies, in Bengaluru outskirts, seizures have gone up by 400 per cent, compared to the last elections," said an EC official.

The official added that the list of financially sensitive locations keeps fluctuating, and tabulation is done on a daily basis.

"Our teams constantly move around and keep interacting with people. Checking vehicles has also intensified, and is not limited to night time alone. We are also looking into details of bank transactions on a daily basis, where withdrawals have been done in cash, cheque, through ATMs and even online payments," the official added.

SAME PLAYERS ARE BACK IN THE RING

CHETAN MG @ Bengaluru

TOY Town Channapatna is likely to witness a fierce battle this time around, again between former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy and BJP candidate and former minister CP Yogeshwar. While Kumaraswamy is aiming at returning to the chief minister's post for the third time, and for the second time by winning the Channapatna seat, Yogeshwar, a sitting MLC, is sweating it out to regain his hold on the constituency.

A bastion of Vokkaligas, Channapatna has always been a stronghold of the JDS, though it's significant that Yogeshwar was elected MLA from the segment five times, including in the 2011 bypoll. Starting as an independent candidate, Yogeshwar went on a party-hopping spree – joining the Congress, BJP, SP and again the BJP.

In 2013, as SP candidate, Yogeshwar defeated Kumaraswamy's wife Anitha by a margin of 6,464 votes. With the entry of Kumaraswamy himself in 2018, Yogeshwar, contesting on a BJP ticket, lost by 21,530 votes.

Perhaps the actor-turned-politician's overconfidence that his work of filling up lakes, which earned him the name 'Adhunika Bhagiratha', would help him win the polls easily, proved costly. As did rejoining the BJP, which has no strong base in the region. Before the results were out, Yogeshwar himself admitted his defeat.

This time, he is back to take on Kumaraswamy with much vigour. It was evident as he ensured that more people took part in his road-show than Kumaraswamy, while filing nominations.

BJP's leadership, including Prime Minister Narendra Modi, would be campaigning for him to ensure Kumaraswamy's debacle. In the clash between the two, Congress seems to be irrelevant here, as its candidates have lost deposits in the last three elections.

JDS workers appear to have firmly resolved to re-elect Kumaraswamy, even as Yogeshwar managed to pull some of the party's rank and file into the BJP's fold. He is also trying to win the seat by playing the local versus outsider card, as he is a native of Channapatna while Kumaraswamy has his roots in Hassan.

The constituency is dominated by Vokkaligas, who form about 40 per cent of the 2,30,327 voters, while there are around 30,000 Muslim votes. The voting pattern reveals that the minority community has not favoured Yogeshwar, which can be a setback for him this time too.

The JDS camp is confident that even if Kumaraswamy manages to get 50 per cent of the Vokkaliga votes, he will easily sail through with the help of minorities and other communities.

The voters here seem to be looking at the larger picture, as the JDS could play the role of 'kingmaker' this time too, and Kumaraswamy could become CM in case a fractured mandate puts him in an advantageous position.

Admitting that Kumaraswamy has the upper hand, Yogeshwar did not wish to reveal the strategies he has put in place to tackle him.

BJP's misrule will give Cong 140 seats: Ramalinga

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS stalwart and KPCC working president Ramalinga Reddy hit the campaign trail on Thursday from Ejipura ward. Later, he hopped on a scooter to meet residents in by-lanes, where he was welcomed with garlands. Reddy met residents of Indira Colony, Rajendra Nagar and Ambedkar Nagar, and walked into the homes of a few voters.

Talking to mediapersons, Reddy said, "BJP's situation is bad. Their maladministration is going to give Congress over 140 seats. We will make voters aware about inflation, deplorable infrastructure and corruption in the state." He said the voters will also be informed about Congress' pre-poll guarantees including the fifth one announced by former AICC president Rahul Gandhi.

"We will give 200 units of power for free, 10 kg rice per head, Rs 2,000 assistance for housewives and also assistance for graduates," said Reddy.

Raising the issue of an incomplete Ejipura flyover, Reddy said that BJP has been delaying getting Defence permission to get lands on the Outer and Inner Ring Roads to complete the flyover connecting Agara.

Those residents who know him well told him that he did not need to come up to them, while Janapriya Residents' Welfare Association members said that since 2008, Reddy has been regularly participating in their meetings and resolving their issues. Surrounded by a large number of party workers, Reddy was seen walking around like any other citizen.

Transgenders repeat demand: Jobs, pension

PURAN CHOUDHARY @ Bengaluru

ELECTIONS come and go, but the transgender community's demands have been consistent. The community wants better access to employment in the government sector, a housing scheme, increase in pension, support for same-sex marriages and a welfare board.

"The current ruling party (BJP) does not care about the community. When Congress was in power, we got a pension scheme and there was some talk about home loans. Politicians remember our plight only when polls are scheduled," said Rakshitha M, transgender activist, Ondede NGO. According to EC, there are 41,312 transgenders registered to vote. There were only 4,468 transgender voters in the last elections. Trans activists and the CEO have taken proactive measures to get more individuals to be part of the election process.

In 2021, the government had notified there would be a 1% reservation for the community in government jobs, but activists said very little has happened. They also said that surviving on Rs 800 pension is infeasible in Bengaluru.

Unstable govt will harm K'taka: FM

Bengaluru: Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Thursday that Karnataka does not need an unstable government which will be on its tenterhooks. Speaking at an event organised by Malleswaram BJP candidate Dr Ashwath Narayan at Brigade Gateway Apartment, she said, "Karnataka is an important state for the future of Indian economy. A steady government can come up with policies for the state. Vote for BJP for a stable government." Hailing PM Narendra Modi, she said what Modi has achieved in a short period, the Congress had failed to do in the last seven decades. "Despite the lockdown, war-related difficulties and recessions, India is moving forward. It is because of our political commitment, out-of-the-box thinking and a stable government," she said. Narayan said, "Voting for BJP will take Bengaluru and Karnataka to the next level".

Mayawati fillip for Akhanda, Setty

Bengaluru: In a big boost for former minister and independent candidate Krishnaiah Setty from Gandhinagar and BSP candidate Akhanda Srinivas Murthy from Pulakeshinagar Assembly constituencies, BSP supremo Mayawati will come to Bengaluru on May 5 and campaign for the leaders. Speaking to TNIE, Akhanda Srinivas Murthy, who was earlier in the Congress, claimed he already has the support of Muslims, Dalits and Christians, and Mayawati's campaign will only help him garner more votes. BSP state in-charge Marasandra Muniyappa said BSP candidates are contesting in 130 seats and Mayawati will hold a convention at the Palace Grounds on May 5. "BSP will teach communal BJP a lesson. Congress and JDS leaders are opportunists who shift their loyalties and join BJP." BSP state chief Krishnamurthy said Mayawati will address launch a high-octane campaign from the Palace Grounds.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

28th April: By the latest count we have found hundreds of planets in other solar systems. But are they really there? Well, we are as certain as we can be and we might be looking at something entirely different. Still, it's nice to think there might be other inhabited planets up there, just like the one we live on!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Business plans could be thrown off course, but only if you allow your heart to rule your head. There are circumstances in which a small blunder may be desirable if it serves as an object lesson for the future. You'll know how best to succeed next time round.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
As the Moon sweeps through your chart, it forms a most tempestuous relationship with Pluto, one which can raise your passions, but also makes partners more intense. It is therefore incumbent on you to emphasise the need for charm, good manners and considerate behaviour.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Something still seems to be eluding you, and you may fall prey to certain secret fears or suspicions. However, while the facts may still be obscure, in your heart you know the exact truth. It's just a matter of putting it into words - and making partners understand.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Complicated planetary aspects denote that all forms of partnership are now up for review. That said, personal complexities may be avoided if you wish to socialise and go around in a gang. And if you want to tell someone just how you feel about them, do so while the going is good.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It is better by far to stick to conventional methods or tactics and prove by your behaviour just how experienced you are. Keep a weather eye open for hysterical employers and rogue authority figures, early in the afternoon. If you see trouble coming, keep your head down.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There is no need to rush just because you're over-conscious of your deadlines. If you wish to put a precious scheme on hold for another few months, you may do so. It's not a question of abandoning the race, but of giving yourself sufficient time to make a go of it.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Many people close to you have hopes for the future. Some may make extravagant gestures, but you are far too wise to be caught out. Even if some sort of unwanted financial outlay is inevitable, you should still adopt a cautious stance in other personal affairs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your fixed, intense, emotional nature may crave security, but there will be moments when you feel like risking it all. In a sense it is your determined pursuit of the truth which leads you into such tricky situations. You will need to compromise, but the circumstances will be different in each case.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The theme for the day is hard work, loyalty and the willingness to fulfil obligations. If you continue to bide your time and remain above the fray, you are bound to end up with your reputation and good name intact. If you bend the rules, then you may lose a friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Take great care in anything you say or write, especially if you are chasing professional promotion, or dealing with authority figures or parents. It is necessary to be clear and practical, but also to be very considerate about a close partner's feelings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
If you still feel that you will never be able to transcend or surmount certain serious financial obstacles, you are totally wrong. The first step in this, as in a number of personal affairs, is to realise just how much you rely on other people's help and assistance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It is pleasant to report that your solar chart is relatively relaxed, and that there is therefore scope for you to reshape aspects of your future before they occur. It's a grand day for making practical plans, writing out lists and deciding what to do next.

NHAI, toll firm fined for collecting excess fee

Told to pay Rs 5,000 as compensation, Rs 3,000 as litigation cost

YATHIRAJU @Raipur

THE Bangalore First Additional District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission has pulled up the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) and JAS Toll Road Company Limited for collecting Rs 5 more than the fee fixed for journey on a stretch of National Highway 4, between Bengaluru and Tumakuru.

The commission directed NHAI and the toll company to pay Rs 10, which was deducted in excess for two-way journey crossing the toll plazas, to the complainant. The Commission also directed them to pay a compensation of Rs 5,000 and Rs 3,000 as litigation cost to complainant MB Santhosh Kumar, a resident of Gandhi Nagar in the city, for causing him mental agony and deficiency in service.

The commission, comprising president B Narayanappa and members N Jyothi and SM Sharavathi, said, "While FASTag ensures automatic toll charges, issues with the system and the process at the toll plazas result in deduction of more than the applicable charges. The dispute arises due to a delay in receiving transaction SMS. There will be problems when a new technology is adopted. The consumer doesn't expect perfection."

The commission said technologies like FASTag will help reduce corruption and ensure easy and fast service to motorists. The motorists expect that the authorities concerned will acknowledge their problems and solve them at the earliest. Therefore, the ministry concerned should inform on its website about the measures taken to rectify the errors.

The complainant was forced to run from pillar to post to get the mistake rectified because of the inaction of NHAI and the toll company, the commission said.

The NHAI and the toll company have been only permitted to collect a fixed toll fee of Rs 35 for crossing both toll plazas. Instead, they collected Rs 40 from the complainant per journey on February 20, 2020, and May 16, 2020.

The complainant contended that lakhs of vehicles cross both toll plazas daily and NHAI and the toll company might have collected excess fees amounting to huge sums of money from the motorists, thinking that nobody would take up the matter with the authorities concerned.

Cong seeks action against Shah for his 'riots' remark

ECI to hear matter today; party also files plaint against Somanna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Congress on Thursday filed a complaint with the Election Commission and Bengaluru police seeking action against Union Home Minister Amit Shah for his remarks that the state will be afflicted with riots if the Grand Old Party comes to power.

The Congress leaders said that the Chief Election Commissioner will hear the matter at 4 pm on Friday.

In a complaint filed with the Station House Officer, High Grounds Police station in Bengaluru, senior Congress leaders DK Shivakumar, G Parameshwara, and Randeep Singh Surjewala alleged that Shah has committed serious offences, which are punishable under the Indian Penal Code and the Representative of People Act-1951. "The cause of action for filing the present complaint arose on April 25, 2023, when Shah, along with several other BJP leaders, addressed a gathering at Vijaypura. While the BJP's address continued for well over an hour, the speech given by Shah was shockingly riddled with flagrantly false statements aimed at tarnishing the image of Indian National Congress by levelling false and unfounded allegations, with a clear objective of trying to create an atmosphere of communal disharmony amongst the gathered crowd and the individuals viewing it on other media platforms," the Congress leaders stated.

The Congress leaders stated that Shah's remarks that if Congress wins the upcoming elections, then the entire state of Karnataka will be "afflicted with communal riots" were designed to incite and indirectly threaten and try to mislead electors into voting for a particular political party and candidate.

The party also filed a complaint against Housing Minister V Somanna for allegedly trying to influence the JDS candidate contesting against him in Chamarajanagar to withdraw from the contest.

CONGRESS FEARS DEFEAT, SAYS CM

SHIGGAON: Reacting to Congress approaching the EC and the police over Union Home Minister Amit Shah's recent 'riot remark', CM Basavaraj Bommai in Shiggaon on Thursday said that the fear of defeat was haunting the Congress. "As they know that they are going to lose the polls, they have resorted to such acts. But there is no truth in the Congress' petition and it will be rejected," he said. The CM said that he has been visiting every village in the constituency (Shiggaon) and the response from the people has been tremendous. "This is the constituency of the CM and with a lot of development works, people feel that I must be get elected by a big margin. I am confident that the voters will elect me with a record margin. I am indebted to them", he said.

CONG PROMISES IMPOSSIBLE TO IMPLEMENT, SAYS BOMMAI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

RIDICULING the guarantees promised by the Congress, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said hoodwinking people ahead of elections was the only guarantee of the Grand Old Party.

Addressing the media here, Bommai said people of the state have lost faith in the Congress. He said the guarantees promised by the Congress are just slogans and cannot be implemented. "In other states, they failed to implement their poll assurances. In a few states, their tenure is coming to an end and people are still waiting for the schemes," he said.

On KPCC president DK Shivakumar's prediction that the Congress will win 141 seats, Bommai said, "People of the state will decide who should get the majority. We have complete faith in our voters," he added.

Hailing PM Narendra Modi's address to party workers, the CM said emphasis has been given to winning the booths to win the elections, and the same strategy is being followed. "The PM's analogy on the double engine was quite evident from the slew of development and infrastructure works taken up in Karnataka and that should be taken to the voters to make them aware of the benefit of one party government at the Centre and state," he added.

Former CM BS Yediyurappa said the onus was on them to bring back BJP to power by winning as many as 140 seats. He said that with the entry of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and BJP national president JD Nadda joining the campaign trail, the political picture in Karnataka would change completely.

CONG'S WARRANTY HAS EXPIRED: PM

PM Narendra Modi on Thursday said that the Congress' own warranty has expired and hence its guarantees have no meaning. Interacting with party workers here, the PM hit out at the Congress over its guarantees. "Congress guarantees are false... It means the guarantee of corruption and dynasty politics. It has reached a status where its warranty has expired and cannot give guarantees," he said. The BJP government at the Centre has been trying to free the country of the freebie culture except for inevitable schemes like the Covid-19 vaccines, he said. He appealed to the voters of Karnataka to give a full mandate to BJP to form a stable government.

MUSLIM RESERVATION TO STAY: SRIRAMULU

HOSAPETE: Muslim reservation will not be removed in Karnataka and it will remain the same as it was in the past, Transport Minister B Sriramulu said in Huvinahadagali on Thursday. Speaking at a public rally, Sriramulu asked members of the Muslim community not to worry over the issue. "If time comes, I will stand by the community. BJP is a party that gives social justice to SCs/STs and OBC communities," he said. Congress never thinks about development and their motto is to use different communities for votes, he said.

'Shah's plan is incite, inflame, insult & intimidate'

BANSY KALAPPA
@ Bengaluru

CONDEMNING Union Home Minister Amit Shah's recent statement that if Congress comes to power in Karnataka, the state will be "riot-afflicted", Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh said, "Amit Shah's statement...is not just hate speech but threat speech. What he said is unbecoming of a Union Home Minister."

Such statements, Ramesh said are part of Shah's 4-Is strategy — incite, inflame, insult and intimidate.

"During elections many things are said, but this is provocation. This is not accidental, it is part of Bharatiya Janata Party's strategy. They know they are losing, and then it is time to try and polarise voters. They found the communal riots issue. When people ask why there are no riots when there is a BJP government, I tell them because BJP-RSS engineer riots," he said.

To prove his rationale, Ramesh referred to "riots over the last 70 -75 years. RSS-BJP are at the root of all these communal riots and disturbances, starting from the early ones in Jabalpur in the 60s."

Jairam Ramesh, AICC general secretary

Asked if the BJP campaign is more colourful and potent than the Congress', he said, "Their attire may look colourful, but content-wise and speech-wise, they are intimidating."

Asked if the Congress can encash the anti-incumbency against the state government, he said, "Over the last four months, we have come up with various pre-poll guarantees. BJP is a formidable election machine, and they also have formidable campaigners who will resort to anything to win elections. However, I can feel that people want a change and are ready for it."

Congress has a psychological advantage as the BJP is rattled after the exit of high-profile leaders like former CM Jagadish Shettar and former deputy chief minister Laxman Savadi, he said, adding that a large number of BJP leaders have also joined Congress.

"Going by the demand for tickets, we have had 8-10 aspirants seeking tickets from each constituency," he said.

JDS manifesto plays Kannada pride card, says 4% Muslim quota will return

CHETAN MG @ Bengaluru

IN the run-up to the May 10 Assembly elections, the Janata Dal (Secular) released its 'Janata' manifesto, touching several issues such as Kannada identity by promising to save the 'Nandini' brand. The manifesto also assures to scrap the proposal of the present BJP government to remove 4% reservation to Muslims. To encourage women to marry youths dependent on agriculture an incentive of Rs 2 lakh is also announced.

The manifesto, while focusing on the five-point programme announced under the 'Pancharatna' schemes, also assures of giving a boost to irrigation projects such as Upper Bhadra and Upper Krishna and implementation of Mekedatu, Mahadayi and Yethinahole projects. Besides, special focus has been given to industrial development, transport and tourism, development of roads, energy, administrative reforms and agriculture. The party plans to release a separate manifesto for Bengaluru city in a few days.

Playing the Kannada identity card using the recent row involving Nandini and Amul brands, the manifesto states that the State and Union governments have conspired to merge the KMF and Amul, which is against the cooperative spirit and the party is committed to ousting the Amul brand out of state and save Nandini.

Ex-PM HD Deve Gowda addresses the media in Bengaluru on Thursday

The manifesto also has a mention of Hindi imposition and states that it has led to the deprivation of Central government jobs to Kannadigas and the party will prevail upon the Centre to allow Kannadigas to write exams for banking and Central government jobs in Kannada. Further, it is promised in the manifesto that the party will scrap the recent cabinet decision to remove the 4% reservation for Muslims and reinstate the same.

Former CM HD Kumaraswamy, who released the manifesto here on Thursday, said the schemes he has announced under the 'Pancharatna' program will require around Rs 50,000 crore every year and it won't be a burden on the state exchequer. "Even if a single promise made in the manifesto is not implemented, I will dissolve the party," he said.

Changes in national politics, predicts Deve Gowda

JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda predicted changes in national politics in the coming days. He told reporters in Bengaluru on Thursday that leaders like Telangana CM K Chandrashekhar Rao, West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee and others were in touch with former CM HD Kumaraswamy. "There will be changes in national politics," he said, replying to a question on whether the allies would campaign for JDS in the upcoming elections. Referring to Union minister Pralhad Joshi's remark that the JDS may win only 10-15 seats, Gowda said, "He (Joshi) has the freedom to comment. The Congress is also saying we will be limited to 25 seats. But the people will reply to their comments on May 10." He added efforts were on to convince the grandson of former MP Shankare Gowda, who is contesting as a rebel candidate in Mandya, to withdraw. He also said the party had played a key role in the development of Bengaluru city, and he would ask urban voters for their vote, based on the party's contribution.

Did not attack anybody personally, says Kharge

"THE Congress has reached such a stage today because of talking in that manner. The intoxication of power has not come down for the Congress party. Karnataka is a land of culture and everyone is respected here. We may differ with the ideology of Kharge, but he will be respected for his seniority. It's unfortunate that someone of his seniority spoke that way," Bommai said.

"This will be a turning point in Karnataka elections. People here do not accept crass personal comments against anyone, let alone our most loved PM. Just wait and watch how the last nail on the Congress coffin will be hammered on May 10th (sic)," tweeted MP Tejasvi Surya.

Meanwhile, Union Minister Shobha Karandlaje filed a complaint against Kharge with CEO Manoj Kumar Meena.

BJP leaders demanded that Kharge apologise.

However, later in the day, Kharge backtracked. "I have not attacked anybody personally. I meant to say that BJP ideologies are like snakes, and if anybody adopts them, they will die," he said. "BJP's ideology is divisive, hostile and full of hatred and prejudice towards the poor and Dalits...My statement was not a personal attack on PM Modi, but on the ideology he represents," the AICC president tweeted. "It was not my intention to hurt anyone's sentiments; and if knowingly or unknowingly someone's sentiments were hurt, it was never my intention, nor is it the conduct of my long political life. I have always followed the norms and traditions of political correctness towards friends and opponents and will do so till my last breath."

He said: "I do not make fun of people and their problems like people sitting in high positions because I have seen and suffered the pain and suffering of the poor and downtrodden....," he elaborated.

AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala defended Kharge. "It is not a personal battle between Kharge and Modi, but between ideologies," he said. "He (Kharge) rose from block level president to AICC president, having hailed from the Dalit community. Can BJP make a Dalit, Adivasi its party president?" he asked.

In blood, Cong worker predicts Shettar's victory

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

IT is not just war of words but also war of blood this upcoming Karnataka Assembly elections. A day after senior BJP leader BS Yediyurappa said Congress leader Jagadish Shetter will not win the May 10 Assembly polls from Hubballi-Dharwad Central and that he will give it in writing in blood, a Congress worker in Hubballi has written in blood that Shettar will win. Manjunath Yantruvi has written in blood on a chart that "Shettar will win the elections for sure and the Congress will get a majority".

"This is the response to the statement of BS Yediyurappa. Congress leader Jagadish Shettar will surely win from Hubballi-Dharwad Central. The Opposition leaders are trying to divide community leaders which is against the ethics of politics," Yantruvia, who is also leader at Dharwad Veerashaiva Mahasabha, said.

He claimed that the BJP will pay for its betrayal and for making Shettar quit the party. "Besides the Congress vote bank, Lingayats and Veerashaivas will stand with Shettar and help him win," he added.

He also met Shettar on Thursday and posed with the letter. Congress youth leader from Hubballi Rajat Ullagaddimath also accompanied him.

No differences with Annamalai: EPS

The AIADMK general secretary had met Union Home Minister Amit Shah earlier

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

A day after meeting Union Home Minister Amit Shah, AIADMK general secretary Edappadi K Palaniswami on Thursday said there are no differences with Tamil Nadu BJP president K Annamalai and the alliance between the two parties has been continuing since the 2019 Lok Sabha elections.

Answering the question of a reporter in New Delhi on Thursday who asked if any 'panchayat' (talks to settle disputes between Annamalai and him) took place during the meeting with Shah on Wednesday, Palaniswami retorted, "Your question is wrong. There are no disputes between us and Annamalai. If there was one, how did Annamalai campaign for us in the Erode East bypolls? You media friends are trying to drive a wedge between the AIADMK and BJP. When we come together as an alliance, the AIADMK always works together with allies for the victory of our candidates. Every party has its own ideology."

"Political leaders wish to work for their respective party's growth. Parties in our alliance are functioning independently unlike the alliance partners of the DMK that are acting as slaves by agreeing to anything and everything done by the DMK. For over 10 years, they have been in the DMK alliance and they don't question the wrongs of the DMK. The only exception is their recent objection to the flexible working hour bill," Palaniswami said.

Asked whether the alliance between the two parties was confirmed after his meeting with Amit Shah on Wednesday, Palaniswami said, "The AIADMK and BJP have been in alliance since the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. It continued for the 2021 Assembly elections and the Erode East byelection and it is going on."

Recently, on two occasions, Palaniswami requested the reporters not to ask questions about the BJP chief. On the first occasion, he charged that Annamalai is trying to become a big leader through press meets and that he would react to the views of only mature leaders. Annamalai reacted to this sharply saying there is no link between the age of a person and maturity. On the second occasion, Palaniswami said alliance issues are decided only by the top leaders of the BJP.

There is a perception that the presence of Annamalai during the meeting of the EPS team with Amit Shah indicates that the party gives due importance to Annamalai's views on alliance issues.

VIVEKA MURDER: KADAPA MP RELEASES CLARIFICATION VIDEO

WITH the CBI intensifying the investigation into the murder of former minister YS Vivekananda Reddy, Kadapa MP YS Avinash Reddy, who is under the scanner of the agency, has released a video where he spoke in length clarifying the allegations framed against him based on the two chargesheets filed by the CBI, 248 witness statements recorded, counter affidavits of the agency, and his questioning.

In his video statement, Avinash Reddy accused the CBI of trying to protect Viveka's daughter YS Sunitha, son-in-law Narreddy Rajasekhar Reddy, and brother-in-law Siva Prakash Reddy by hiding the letter found at the crime scene, which confirms the killers in the case.

He accused the CBI investigation officer Ram Singh of targeting him by not disclosing the letter written by Viveka, which mentioned the role of driver Prasad. He also found fault with the probe agency allowing the accused Sk Dastagiri, who confessed to killing Viveka using the axe he purchased from Kadiri, turn as an approver. He alleged that despite Dastagiri confessing to killing Viveka, CBI didn't arrest him and submitted a no-objection statement in front of the Kadapa court in the anticipatory bail petition he filed.

While CBI did not attempt to arrest Dastagiri even after his confession, instead it allowed Dastagiri to turn as an approver not abiding by the principle which cautions that an 'Approver's statement has to be viewed with highest suspicion'. At the same time, Ranganna, who was the watchman and the key eyewitness confirmed Dastagiri and three others killed Viveka, Sunitha exerted no pressure on the CBI to arrest Dastagiri.

Avinash Reddy's other allegation was that Sunitha, Rajasekhar Reddy and Siva Prakash Reddy are aware of Viveka's death through his PA Krishna Reddy but did not call the police and further asked Krishna Reddy to hide the letter written by Viveka. On the occasion, Avinash Reddy asked why Rajasekhar Reddy didn't tell about the letter to the CBI and why CBI is not inquiring in this regard.

CBI QUESTIONS PA KRISHNA REDDY'S FAMILY MEMBERS

The CBI officials on Thursday arrived in Pulivendula to question Viveka's PA Krishna Reddy. The CBI officials, after waiting for a brief period outside Krishna Reddy's house as he was not present, questioned his wife Sujatha and son Rajesh Reddy for nearly two hours. The CBI officials left Pulivendula after they could not find Krishna Reddy at Loyola College where he works.

Keep info on welfare schemes on phones, PM tells cadres

WELFARE schemes for the poor reached the beneficiaries swiftly, the PM said and cited the successful implementation of "harghar jal yojna" (tap water to every household) in Karnataka.

In the states ruled by non-BJP parties, attempts have been made to thwart the successful implementation of central schemes as they feared people would hail Modi. For the implementation of the one-nation one-ration card scheme, the Supreme Court had to intervene, the PM said.Modi also referred to the implementation of Kissan Samman Nidhi scheme in Karnataka where beneficiaries are given Rs 4,000 in addition to Centre's Rs 6,000. Every farmer in Karnataka is getting Rs 10,000, he said.

Responding to a question by Virupakshappa of Shivamogga, Modi said BJP workers should keep information about all welfare schemes implemented by the double-engine government in their mobile phones and also maintain diaries to explain them to people.

Modi, who gave a pep talk on strengthening the party at the booth level, predicted that given the enthusiasm of party workers, BJP will break all its previous records and get a clear mandate in the May 10 Assembly elections. The PM claimed that people of Karnataka are ready to vote BJP to power and this, he felt during his official visits to inaugurate many development works in the state. BJP workers should take a proactive step in bringing them to polling stations and make them vote, he added. The virtual interaction was conducted as a prelude to Modi's visit to the state on Saturday.

'Women to get free public transport'

EARLIER addressing fishermen, Rahul said the fight in the coming Assembly elections in Karnataka will be between two ideologies. "Wherever Congress forms a government, the party helps the poor and weaker sections. Because that is its agenda. "The BJP government here was not elected by you. People of Karnataka know that BJP formed this government using money power. This government was formed after MLAs were bought paying them crores of rupees. A BJP MLA has said that the post of CM can be bought for Rs 2,500 crore," he alleged.

Referring to price rise, Rahul said during the UPA regime, the price of an LPG cylinder was Rs 400 and it has now been increased to Rs 1,100. Similarly, the price of diesel has been increased from Rs 56 to Rs 90 per litre. The government has saved crores of rupees by increasing fuel prices, he claimed and added that the money has not been utilised for public good.

Addressing a rally in Mangaluru, Rahul announced free public transport for women if Congress is voted to power in Karnataka. This is the fifth poll promise of the party.Rahul said women will travel for free in state-owned buses from the very first day of Congress government formation.

"Not just four promises, but we are adding one more. Congress will fulfill five guarantee schemes on the first day of our government. BJP stole 40% commission from women and we will return it to them. Women need not pay while travelling in government buses," Rahul said to a thunderous applause.

Referring to Congress' poll "guarantees", he challenged Modi to replicate it across the country after Congress implements it in Karnataka

Referring to his party's association with Mangaluru, he said the Indira government established Mangalore Airport, MRPL and the Mangalore Port. "But the Modi government merged the pride of Karnataka -- Canara Bank and Vijaya Bank with less profit-making banks. This time, people will elect Congress with 150 seats. You give BJP only 40 seats because they are very fond of the number 40," he said.

Chennithala trains guns on Pinarayi in AI camera scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ T'Puram

SEEKING for the first time to directly link the Chief Minister with the AI camera scam, senior Congress leader Ramesh Chennithala on Thursday said, "Pinarayi Vijayan has close links with directors of two companies involved in the deal."

Alleging that Ramjith, the owner of Presadio Technologies - one of the two companies in question - was a frequent visitor to the Cliff House, Chennithala dared the chief minister to make public the cctv footage at his official residence.

"The government should also reveal the role of Jithesh, director of TROIS. I understand that he is a bigger fish, compared to M Sivasankar. Jithesh is far more influential in the corridors of power," he told TNIE.

The claims of Presadio Technologies need to be probed as contrary to their claims they don't have business abroad, he said.

SRIT, the company which was awarded the sub contract for the deal, had calculated the project cost at around Rs 83.6 crore. But it shot up to Rs 232 crore, Chennithala said. "As per norms, a company going for tender should be an OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer) or an OEM-accredited agent. But SRIT has no such experience," he added.

The finance department had raised objections to the Safe Kerala project 6 or 7 times. Yet the cabinet gave its nod to the project, he alleged. "The cabinet approved the proposal despite being aware of the irregularities. It's a grave offece," he said.

Chennithala demanded a detailed probe into SRIT, Presadio Technologies, E-Centric, Akshara, Ashoka and UL Technology Solutions (Pvt) Ltd.

Earlier talking to reporters at Indira Bhavan, Chennithala alleged that Industries minister P Rajeeve was trying to to shield and protect "looters". The government cannot hoodwink people by merely ordering a probe. The investigation by the industries principal secretary is to whitewash the entire episode, he added.

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has conducted search and seizure action at two locations in Bengaluru in the Pigeon Education Technology India Pvt Ltd case under the Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA), the agency stated in an official release on Thursday.

"The company is providing online education in the name of 'Odaclass'. The present directors of the company are Liu Can, who is a Chinese national, and Vedant Hamirwasia," added the central agency.

"The search further revealed that the entire affairs of the company are controlled by Can from China and the Indian director has no control or access to the company's affairs. He follows the instructions of Chinese persons. The Chinese director is the authorised signatory in all the bank accounts of the company maintained in India and the same are being operated online through China," the ED stated.

The agency added that the "company remitted around Rs 82 crore to China in the name of marketing expenses on the instructions of the Chinese persons without having proof of availing any services from the beneficiary entity". "Role of the earlier directors of the company, Sushant Srivastava, Priyanka Khandelawal and Himanshu Garg, who had resigned last year, is also under investigation," the ED added.

TOURISM TO GO ON HOLIDAY ON MAY 10

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

MOST tourism sites in Karnataka will be closed on May 10, to ensure the staffers vote and also to discourage people from turning the day into a holiday and making bookings.

Hotels and resorts -- both government and private -- are discouraging people from making bookings and staying at their properties on May 10, without voting. They are also planning special schemes and discounts for tourists who vote and then come to the properties.

District administrations have also ordered tourism sites to be closed. The Shivamogga DC has announced that Jog Falls will be closed for tourists as staffers have to go to their respective homes to vote.

Officials from Jungle Lodges and Resorts said 17 per cent bookings have been done for May 10, and most of them are from outside Karnataka. Holidayers who have booked are leaving either on May 9 or early morning of May 10. The managements are giving their staffers leave to go home and vote. Similarly, staffers of Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation will be given leave, and the properties will be managed by skeletal staff.

The Zoo Authority of Karnataka has said that zoos can be closed on May 10. While Mysuru Zoo will operate with staffers on rotation, Bannerghatta Biological Park will be closed, to enable staffers to vote.

Forest officials are in close contact with the Election Commission to check on closing down safaris for the day, and giving leave to staffers. Directors of various tiger reserves and wildlife sanctuaries are also discussing the issue with district administrations.

"We don't want people to use May 10 as a holiday. So we are discouraging tourists from making bookings for that day. We also don't want our staffers to lose the opportunity to vote," said a KSTDC official.

The temple dedicated to actor Samantha Ruth Prabhu by Tenali Sandeep, a resident of Bapatla

Fan builds temple for actor Samantha

BANDHAVI ANNAM @ Guntur

IN the past, there have been instances where film personalities, particularly actresses, were honoured with their own temples, a cultural phenomenon popular in Tamil Nadu. Now, this trend has extended to Andhra Pradesh and the actor to join the list is Samantha Ruth Prabhu.

Tenali Sandeep, a car driver from Bapatla, is a fan of Samantha. His admiration for her is such that he even went on a pilgrimage to Tirupati to pray for her wellbeing when he learned about her Myositis condition. Recently, Sandeep built a temple for Samantha at his home in Alapadu village in Bapatla district. He has completed the construction of the temple enclosure and has even prepared an image of Samantha. Sandeep plans to open the temple on Samantha's birthday, April 28. Sandeep said, "Though I was a very big fan of her from the very start of her career, what impressed and inspired me more is her sensibility and kind heart."

RAJESH ABRAHAM @ Kochi

THE football World Cup party refuses to end for Kerala. The Qatar tournament and the victory of Lionel Messi-inspired Argentina gave the world a peep into the huge fan following the Latin American country's football team enjoys in the state.

Now, in a rare display of gratitude and to acknowledge and appreciate Malayali football fans for their support to its national team, the Argentine Embassy in New Delhi on Thursday hosted a special dinner for some special guests from Kerala -- Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan and legendary Indian footballer I M Vijayan.

The special invite by Hugo Javier Gobbi, Argentine Ambassador to India, was also extended to senior officials of embassies of other Latin American countries, including Brazil and Colombia, which also have a huge fan base in Kerala.

"It was a rare and unique event. Not everyday, you would see a foreign embassy hosting a dinner for a chief minister of a state to thank for supporting its football team," said a source, who attended the dinner.

Rajamony said that there was nothing official about the event, and it was the Argentine Embassy's way of thanking Kerala for supporting its team. I M Vijayan, who himself is a big fan of Argentina and Diego Maradona, said he had reached Delhi just to attend the dinner. "It's a special occasion," he said.

Mathew Joseph, CEO of Kerala Sports League, which is organising the Kerala Super League from November, also attended the high-profile dinner. Industrialist Navaz Meeran and Feroz Meeran of Meerans Sports, which along with Scoreline Sports Pvt Ltd, won the commercial rights for the Kerala Super League, were the other attendees.

UP TO THE PEOPLE TO ADDRESS ANAND MOHAN SYNDROME IN POLITICS

The visual of Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar at the wedding of the son of don-turned-politician Anand Mohan Singh is evidence of the reason behind the latter's premature release from jail, whatever spin the JD(U) may want to give it. We may find fault with Nitish for his remarkable transformation from his earlier avatar as an agent of change. After all, it was under his government in 2007 that Anand was sentenced to life for his role in the gruesome lynching of Dalit IAS officer G Krishnaiah at Gopalganj in 1994. But we need to look at the muted reaction from political parties to understand why Nitish's volte-face is not a shocker but a reminder of all that is wrong with our democracy.

Politicians feel the need to keep musclemen with money bags and influence in their respective castes or communities in good humour to win elections. Why hasn't this attitude changed over the decades? Time and again, saner voices have warned against the nexus between politicians and criminals, only to fall on deaf ears. The Supreme Court has done its bit in several judgements. Thanks to it, convicted legislators now stand disqualified immediately. It directed the Centre to set up special courts to fast-track cases involving politicians, ruled that parties must make public the criminal history of their candidates, citing reasons for their selection, and made it mandatory for contesting leaders to declare their criminal antecedents to the Election Commission (EC). But when it comes to enforcing these, the onus is on the EC, which has been found wanting. All this proves one thing. The judiciary can only do so much; laws can only be effective to an extent but cannot address the root cause of the malaise.

There has to be political will and a broad agreement among the parties to keep criminals at bay. For this, parties need to have robust internal democracy. Simultaneously, cases involving politicians should be disposed of expeditiously. But when you see politicians rubbing shoulders with gangsters, this reformation seems mission impossible. Ultimately, the only viable solution lies with the people. One may disagree with Lee Kuan Yew, the Singaporean statesman, on many issues, but what he said about democracy may be worth recalling. The preconditions for democracy are a fairly large 'educated' middle class with a certain standard of living and parties agreeing on fundamental principles. We have a growing middle class, but parties appear stuck in a time warp. Change is possible only if people reject criminals and their patrons.

WOMEN IN K'TAKA FRAY: CURSORY PRESENCE

Of 224 seats, eight women MLAs (one nominated, now scrapped) in the 15th Karnataka Assembly. Of 2,613 candidates in the Karnataka election fray, 185 are women (219 in 2018). Of 389 candidates contesting from Bengaluru's 28 constituencies, 38 are women. The numbers tell a story—that the political system remains patriarchal, the bias against women remains strong, and all the major parties are guilty of it. The ruling Bharatiya Janata Party has fielded 12 women candidates (5.3%), Congress 11 (4.9%), Janata Dal-Secular 13 (6.2%) and Aam Aadmi Party 13 (6%). The remaining 136 candidates are independents or belong to little-known parties in a state where 49% of the voters are women. The choice of candidates, too, falls into the family/dynasty pattern. Most of those nominated are wives, daughters and sisters or have links with political families. Bengaluru has failed on this front, with Sowmya Reddy, daughter of Congress veteran and MLA R Ramalinga Reddy, being the sole woman MLA in IT City.

Women may be blazing trails and breaking glass ceilings in every sphere, but strangely, there are few career politicians. What ails our political system? Are women wary of the rough-and-tumble of politics, or are potential women leaders pushed to the sidelines? Or does every woman politician need a godfather? With politics in India becoming increasingly hardline and feeding off hatred and bigotry, most women may be ill-at-ease, though a few do toe the line.

While parties profess to recognise gender equality and give women their due, it is evident that it is mere lip service by the brotherhood of male politicians. This anomaly could have been set right had the Women's Reservation Bill been enacted and implemented. The Bill, to reserve one-third of seats in the Lok Sabha and state legislative assemblies for women, remains in limbo 27 years after the Deve Gowda government introduced it in 1996 and 13 years after the Rajya Sabha passed it. While the Bill requires a Constitutional amendment, it also requires considerable political will. There is a reluctance to groom new leaders and break the male domination of the system. Though the BJP has been in power for nine years and has the brute majority in the Lok Sabha, the Bill is yet to see the light of day. Until such time, India cannot claim to be truly democratic.

QUICK TAKE

DISCARD IMPLICIT BIASES

CJI DY Chandrachud plans to stop the unwitting use of inappropriate language against women in legal discourse. A glossary of acceptable words is on the cards. In some judgments, he recalls finding words like 'concubine' to describe women in a relationship. This is a welcome step. But this is also the first step. There is the baggage of stereotyping, profiling and patriarchy to get rid of related to caste, class, religion and community. Brutal, insinuating questioning of rape victims is no less insulting. The notion of implicit biases—prejudices people hold unconsciously—hurts the criminal justice system to no end.

Biden's victory over Trump was historic. But if that history is to repeat itself in 2024, it will end up as a farce

CHOOSING BETWEEN AGEING BIDEN AND RAGING TRUMP

K P NAYAR Strategic Analyst

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Joe Biden's decision to seek the presidency of the United States of America for a second time can only be explained, ironically, by a quote from one of America's greatest enemies, Karl Marx, the fountainhead of Communism. "History repeats itself, first as a tragedy, second as a farce," Marx wrote in 1851 in an adaptation of a similar quote by German philosopher Georg Hegel.

The famous saying will come true next year if Biden's presidential rematch is with his predecessor, Donald Trump, which seems likely as of now. Biden rehabilitated America to a large extent in the minds and eyes of his people during his time in office and partially restored the US standing in the world that Trump severely damaged. Yet, the fight for the White House in 2020 brought immense tragedy in its wake: the unprecedented insurrection on Capitol Hill during the certification of the election will forever remain a blot on American democracy. Hallowed institutions were damaged in the build-up to the poll, during the campaign and in its aftermath, even as many freedoms were compromised in what is known as the "Land of the Free". Despite the tragedies, Biden's victory over Trump was historic. But if that history is to repeat itself in the 2024 campaign, it will end up as a farce.

Four days before Biden formally announced his candidacy this week, the Associated Press polled what sample voters thought about history repeating itself from 2020. A mere 4% surveyed by AP want a rematch between the victor and the vanquished in the last presidential election. Nearly half the voters—47%—wish neither Biden nor Trump would seek re-election. Additionally, nearly a quarter of voters—23%—do not want Trump to be in the final race. Marginally more electors—26%—want Biden out of the next contest for the highest office of the land, in addition to the 47%.

If Trump is the Republican candidate next year, Democrats will see that the election is about Trump, not their current president. In that case, Biden may be re-elected despite his poor popularity now. The latest NBC News poll puts Biden's approval ratings at figures tailor-made for his defeat. His overall approval rating is only 41%. On the most important issue for voters, the economy, the incumbent president scores only 38%. Yet, to prevent Trump from reclaiming the White House, the bulk of independents, Republican women who want restoration of their abortion rights, many moderate Republicans and undecided voters will cast their ballots for re-electing Biden. In recent memory, only once have voters decisively cast their votes to prevent the "other" candidate from winning. That was in 1964 when Americans inflicted a crushing defeat on Republican Barry Goldwater, who is now credited with fathering modern-day conservatism in the US. It was not a popular idea then. Lyndon Johnson was re-elected president in a landslide. Goldwater could win only six of the 50 US states. His tally of electoral votes was an abysmal 52 compared to Johnson's 486. Like now, only 270 electoral votes were needed to be president then too.

In a presumptive election between Biden and Trump today, everything points to a Biden victory. This may yet change in the next 18 months, though. But it is not certain at this point. In a Wall Street Journal poll held this month among voters who dislike both candidates, a whopping majority of 54% will choose the incumbent president over his predecessor if such a choice becomes inevitable. A mere 15% of such voters will choose Trump.

The recent indictment of Trump in a New York City Court has mobilised the Republican base in his support. A huge majority of the Grand Old Party's (GOP) voters believe the case is politically motivated and without merit. For most of them, the criminal charges against the former president make no difference. According to multiple opinion surveys, many of them are more likely to vote for Trump because they think he is being persecuted. But this is also Trump's problem. In a presumed match against Biden, Trump cannot win over voters who would otherwise have voted against Biden. If Florida Governor Ron DeSantis is the GOP candidate, many—not all—voters unhappy with Biden would opt for DeSantis. Generally speaking, if Republicans recognise this and dump Trump in favour of another leader from their party, Biden will become highly vulnerable and could well end up as a one-term president. Like Trump in January 2021.

The mid-term Congressional elections last year, in which Republicans fared poorly, has lessons for the GOP. But in an emotionally charged atmosphere, which Trump is further trying to inflame, those lessons may be lost on the party's most faithful. That is what Biden is hoping for.

What does all this mean for India-US relations? Modi is to go to Washington on a state visit in the second half of June, only the third from India. Biden will be in New Delhi in the beginning of September for the Group of Twenty summit.

These are important engagements, and their substance will be conditioned by assessments in South Block—seats of the Ministry of External Affairs and the Prime Minister's Office—about the US election outcome. India has heavily invested in Biden. It is not a superficial and telegenic engagement like with Trump, which was meant to please the mercurial and unpredictable president, but with little substance in retrospect.

Modi and Biden have had more than 20 interactions—face-to-face, virtual and phone conversations—in the last 28 months since Biden moved into the White House. Apart from meetings, the scale, speed and spread of the bilateral outreaches going beyond the two governments and covering industry, think tanks and academia point to a need to build on them.

A return by Trump to the White House will mean much of these efforts would have been wasted, given his style and temperament. Milestone industry deals such as the Tata-Boeing agreement will, of course, stay. But reorienting the structure of relations with Trump's imprint will mean much will be lost and will take time to rebuild.

SUCCESSES GALORE, WHY HESITATE PATTING GOVERNMENT ON THE BACK

SANDIP GHOSE Current affairs commentator

At a recent media conclave, PM Narendra Modi was recounting what he considered as achievements of his government. On the previous day, his cabinet colleague, Bhupender Yadav, Union Minister for Labour and Employment and Environment, Forest and Climate Change, presented an identical report card in his keynote address. While Mr Yadav underscored the focus on last-mile delivery, the prime minister highlighted the disruptive and transformative nature of policy interventions of the present government. With the general elections less than a year away and other important state Assembly elections round the corner, one could not be oblivious to their political intent. As a communicator par excellence, Mr Modi knows the importance of repeating a message for it to register. However, I thought the narrative may sound jaded to a well-informed audience. But I was surprised by the resonance it generated in the hall, even if one discounted their apparent ideological inclinations.

In a parallel universe, the regional political parties are frenetically working at cobbling up a united front of the opposition, while the Congress is training its guns on the prime minister for his alleged closeness with an industrialist. Their common refrain is that the economy is in doldrums, the common people are reeling under inflation and unemployment, with only favoured businessmen and the super-rich benefiting from this government's policies—something they unanimously and unequivocally term as "disastrous". What the voters think will only be known when the ballot machines or EVMs are counted. Meanwhile, there are some developments that are worth noting.

One of Narendra Modi's most trenchant critics has been the left-leaning international magazine, or newspaper as they prefer to call themselves, The Economist. In fact, they twice disapproved of Modi's candidature as PM. However, some of their recent pieces have been uncharacteristically complimentary. In a first, it praised India's "eye-wateringly big transport upgrade", writing how "overhauling the country's roads and railways will make it richer and much better-connected". Incidentally, at the same event mentioned above, two other ministers of the Modi government—Ashwini Vaishnaw, Railways, and Nitin Gadkari, Road Transport and Highways—expounded on the government's plans for infrastructure development, which by any standards is impressive. In a second piece, The Economist praised the EV (Electric Vehicles) revolution happening in the two-wheeler segment, which it thinks is a step ahead of the EV cars strategy of more advanced economies. Gadkari also talked of the work underway towards hydrogen-powered cars, which is going to be the next game changer.

However, they left the best for the last: It was about India's population surpassing that of China and the demographic dividend that it is going to yield. It seems the visit of Apple's Tim Cook and his plans for shifting a sizable production of iPhones out of China to India was an eye-opener for its editors. Therefore, clearly there is a lot going for India in what Mr Modi has christened as the country's "Amrit Kal".

> India's economic management during the pandemic has been exemplary, something which is reflected in GDP growth rates when major economies are floundering

Besides these, Narendra Modi has earned undeniable "bragging rights" on a few counts. Foremost among them is the phenomenal success of the JAM (Jan-Dhan, Aadhaar and Mobile) trinity which is now being recognised the world over. He never fails to remind his audience about the initial scepticism expressed by the opposition, especially the former finance minister, about the feasibility of digital payments. Now the story of India's UPI (Unified Payments Interface) is being cited as an example of global best practices. The benefits of formalisation of the economy and the implementation of GST (Goods and Services Tax) are now paying dividends with higher revenue collection, which has helped the government to fund welfare schemes and development expenditure.

JAM made Aadhaar-linked DBT (Direct Benefit Transfer) possible, plugging leakages in transmission and delivery of other schemes such as fertiliser subsidy and gas cylinders to the poorer sections. However, nothing can match the distribution of free ration to over 80 crore people during Covid, averting a food crisis that many doomsday prophets had predicted for India. As much as his critics may portray otherwise, India's economic management during the pandemic has been exemplary, something which is reflected in GDP growth rates when major economies are floundering. Recent IMF studies confirm the confidence in the continuation of the India growth story.

Modi showed the courage of conviction on two other major challenges, which has stood India in good stead. First was rebuffing pressures from multinational big-pharma companies and their lobbyists in India to buy foreign vaccines for India at exorbitant prices. As doubts are now being expressed about the efficacy of those vaccines, India is having the last laugh. The second was his decision to buy Russian crude during the Ukraine war, incurring the wrath of Western powers. This not only insulated India from the oil shocks but also asserted its position in the new world order, making a statement that we are no pushover.

There are some other findings that have bolstered the confidence of the Modi government. The highly respected Washington DC-based libertarian organisation, CATO Institute, has cited several studies pointing out that after a rise in poverty during the initial months of Covid, there was actually a reduction in poverty levels and income inequality in subsequent months due to the massive distribution of food grains and financial support under the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Yojana (PMGKY). Similarly, a report of the prime minister's Economic Advisory Council (EAC), authored by Prof Shamika Ravi, suggests that the government's social welfare schemes have been providing basic amenities to people—regardless of which religion, social group or geography they belong to. All these have created a massive constituency of "Labarthies" or beneficiaries for the Modi government. Whether this translates into votes is another matter. But it does raise the question: are we as people far too self-critical not to recognise our own accomplishments?

US elections

The 2024 election for the next US president is reportedly to be between Biden and Trump again. One septuagenarian and one octogenarian competing for the top post of the most powerful country is interesting. In a crucial time where issues of economy, environment and conflicts take centre stage, the US deserves an effective administrator. One should wait and see who can galvanise the people's approval.

Maoist attack

Apropos of Maoists ambush police vehicle in C'garh, kill 11 (Apr 27). The inefficiency of the Central and state governments is the main reason for such an attack. Whenever an election is announced, this also happens on the borders. Chhattisgarh's Congress government should have been more careful in transporting them. The incident may affect the prospects of the Congress in the ensuing Karnataka Assembly election to some extent.

Army to create separate wing to handle cyber ops

To have dedicated officers who will have tenure at command level

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

IN a move to augment operational capabilities along with absorption of new technologies, the Indian Army has decided to create a new wing to handle cyber operations. It also plans to create structures to "test bed" a variety of niche tech-enabled equipment being inducted into the Army.

The decisions were taken during the latest 5-day edition of Army Commanders Conference (ACC) which was organised for the first time in a hybrid model beginning April 17.

"With rapid migration towards net centricity, which entails an increased reliance on modern communication systems, the forum reviewed the requirement to safeguard the networks and decided to operationalise Command Cyber Operations and Support Wings (CCOSW) in the immediate future," the Army said in a statement on Thursday.

The CCOSW "will assist the formations to undertake the mandated cyber security functions." To begin with, the new wing will have dedicated officers and will spend tenure at the command level, sources said.

"Cyberspace has emerged as an important military domain both in grey zone warfare ('the contested arena somewhere between routine statecraft and open warfare') as well as conventional operations.

The decision is based on the fact that "the expansion of cyber warfare capabilities by our adversaries has made this domain more competitive and contested than ever before."

In order to augment the capabilities of the forces by absorption of niche technologies and equipment, the Army Commanders also decided to nominate Lead Directorates and 'Test Bed' Formations to evolve optimal employment philosophies and scaling to facilitate better exploitation across the Army.

Pointing to a large number of niche tech-enabled equipment being inducted into the Indian Army, a need was felt that force structures are required to optimally exploit them. "

These equipment include a variety of tactical/mini/ micro/logistics drones/UAVs, drone swarms, loiter weapon systems, electronic warfare, ant-drone equipment etc. The Army has announced 2023 as the 'year of transformation.'

TECH EDGE FOR INDIAN ARMY

Army Commanders' Conference okays a new 4-year technical entry scheme for officers. It will come into effect from January '24

BETTER TRAINING:
The 4-year tenure will have 3 years of training at the Cadet Training Wings (CTWs), followed by one year of basic military training at IMA Dehradun

THE ADVANTAGE:
The 4-year model will ensure young officers are available in the Army units for one additional year

NICHE EQUIPMENT
TACTICAL, MINI, MICRO, AND LOGISTICS DRONES, UAVS, DRONE SWARMS, LOITER WEAPON SYSTEMS, ELECTRONIC WARFARE, AND ANTI-DRONE APPARATUS

Do away with 1-month notice: Couples

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AS the Supreme Court deliberates on the provisions of Special Marriage Act (SMA) as part of the ongoing hearing on the legality of same sex marriages, interfaith couples Athira Sujatha and Shameem couldn't be happier about it.

Two years ago, the couple moved the SC challenging the provisions of the 30-day prior notice provision in the Special Marriage Act, 1954. Though the court dismissed the petition last year, Athira believes that it was the beginning of a change.

"It took two years for the SC to even hear it. It dismissed the petition on the ground that I'm no longer an aggrieved party because I was already married. The technicalities have invalidated my struggle. But I am glad that now the same SC is observing that the publishing of personal information of interfaith couples 30-day prior to marriage is 'patriarchal'," Athira told this correspondent.

The couple decided to campaign against the one month notice after their personal information got leaked on Whats app groups and social media after submitting the application.

While the SMA provides a legal framework for the marriage of people belonging to different religions or castes, Section 6 directs the marriage officer to issue a public notice for marriage applications under the Act, and Section 7 invites objections to these applications.

While hearing the case, CJI DY Chandrachud observed that the 30-day notice clause under the Act, is "patriarchal" and lays couples "open for invasion by the society".

"When I asked the registrar about this 30 day notice period, he told me that it is to prevent fraudulent marriage. So my question to him was that it can happen with anyone. Why singling out only interfaith marriages? If the government wants to prevent fraud in marriage it has to come up with a better system. This is an infringement of my basic rights," said Athira.

If the SMA is the only viable route for interfaith couples to register their marriages, the 30-day notice period under SMA is being misused by authorities to harass couples, says Asif Iqbal, co-founder of the NGO 'Dhanak for Humanity', a platform to extend help for interfaith couples.

Though Delhi government provides 'safe house' accommodation to inter-caste and interfaith couples whose relationships were being opposed by their families or local communities, Iqbal points out that most of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate (SDM) s makes it very difficult for the couples and try to jeopardize the entire process," he said.

"The "safe house' provided by the Delhi government is located in North Delhi and the closest SDM office is in Model Town. We are handling several cases where the SDM has informed the parents of the couple about their whereabouts after they submit their personal details. This is contempt of court, as the courts have clearly ruled that not to disclose personal information," said Iqbal.

"For couples who are coming from a different state, it will take three or four months to register the marriage because of domicile law. First they have to stay for a month and procure identification certificates such as Aadhar, driving license or valid proof. Registering the marriage will take a minimum three months. The officials make the process very difficult and try to jeopardize the entire process," he says.

He points out that in 2021, Delhi High Court has observed that the act of a Sub Divisional Magistrate to issue notices at the residence of a couple seeking registration of marriage under SMA is prima facie contempt of court. Iqbal also says that with the conversion law in place in most states, many couples elope to states out of their jurisdiction to avoid pressure from family and harassment from vigilante groups.

"Currently we are dealing with a case of an interfaith couple from Rajasthan who are facing threat after the SDM intimated their parents. Because of fear, most couples don't speak out," he said.

When I asked the registrar about this 30-day notice period, he told me that it is to prevent fraudulent marriage. So my question to him was that it can happen with anyone. Why singling out only interfaith marriages?...

High returns: Uptick in smuggling of Phensedyl to Bangladesh in 2 years

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

A cough syrup that provides the much needed sleep to small children and a sigh of relief to tired and weary mothers' is now a much sought after drug by many addicts in a few dry Indian states and also in neighbouring Bangladesh.

Each time six-year-old Animesh would have a sleepless night of coughing and sneezing, especially during the winter-spring transition, his mother would administer a teaspoon full of Phensedyl. That ensured total bliss! After Animesh suffered severe allergic coughing and sneezing triggered by pollen and allergen, a pediatrician prescribed the codeine-based syrup that would comfort the kid during such allergic attacks.

But while the drug provides many kids like Animesh and even adults' relief during allergic triggers, it's a much sought after drug by addicts especially in the dry states and Bangladesh where it serves as replacement to alcohol, banned by law due to its codeine content.

Amid strict vigil on cow smuggling, the peddling of Phensedyl, a legally manufactured drug into neighbouring Bangladesh is at an all-time high according to a senior official of the Border Security Force (BSF) that guards the Indian frontiers. Due to its lucrative returns amid high demand, the smuggling of the codeine-based drug has almost doubled in the last two years, with smugglers finding the cough syrup a more lucrative item, according to sources in the BSF.

This has turned states in the east and northeastern part of India, boarding Bangladesh as the biggest transit hub of the drug and has seen a significant increase in recent times. According to the BSF, the number of units confiscated by BSF guards from the Indian states bordering Bangladesh has gone up from 2.82 lakh in 2021 to over 4.06 lakh in 2022. The BSF officials in the first quarter of 2023 have already confiscated over 85 lakh units till mid-April.

"Smuggling this cough syrup is quite rewarding financially as the cost of one bottle of Phensedyl, which sells for around ₹170 in India, instantly shoots up to ₹500 as soon as it crosses the border," said a senior officer in the BSF.

JELLYFISH ROBOT TO CLEAN OCEANS

German roboticists at the Max Planck Institute in Stuttgart have developed a jellyfish-inspired underwater robot that is designed to collect waste from the bottom of the ocean. The almost noise-free prototype can trap objects underneath its body without physical contact, thereby enabling safe interactions in delicate environments such as coral reefs. Called the Jellyfish-Bot, it could become a tool for environmental remediation. In the complicated and challenging underwater cleaning up operations, existing underwater robots are bulky, rigid and unable to explore and sample the complex and unstructured environments.

ACOUSTIC TECH WITH AI TO WARN ABOUT TSUNAMI IN REAL TIME

Aerial view of Marina beach in Chennai after a tsunami triggered by a quake in the Indian Ocean devastated parts of the subcontinent in December 2004

Researchers from University of California, Los Angeles, USA, and Cardiff University, UK, have developed an early warning system combining state-of-the-art acoustic technology with artificial intelligence to instantly classify earthquakes and determine potential tsunami risks. They have developed a model that measures the acoustic radiation (sound) produced by the earthquake, which carries information about the tectonic event and travels significantly faster than tsunami waves. Underwater microphones, called hydrophones, record the acoustic waves and monitor tectonic activity in real time. Their model calculates the source of the earthquake from the hydrophones and AI algorithms classify its slip type and magnitude. It then calculates the length, width, uplift speed, and duration, which dictate the size of the tsunami, and which way it's likely to head to help evacuate people from the threatened areas.

RESEARCH FINDS LAGER BEER BORN IN 1602 IN COURT BREWERY IN MUNICH

With the help of historical records and research reconstructing evolutionary relationships of yeast genes, researchers have found that the first lager beers originated at the court brewery of Maximilian the Great, elector of Bavaria, in Munich in 1602. The researchers revealed that the beginnings of a shift from ale to yeast occurred when a new yeast species, Saccharomyces pastorianus or "lager yeast," appeared in Germany around the end of the middle ages. This hybrid species arose from mating the top-fermenting ale yeast Saccharomyces cerevisiae and the cold-tolerant Saccharomyces eubayanus around the start of the 17th century. But until now no one had figured out how the combination lager yeast S pastorianus came about. Beer was being brewed from centuries ago, but until the early 20th century ale had dominated the scene. With lager beer becoming increasingly popular over the previous four centuries, it now accounts for 90% of the beer consumed annually.

Maoist shadow over jawans' cremation

Battle against rebels in final stage, CM Bhupesh Baghel says a day after Dantewada attack

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

A day after the Dantewada attack, chief minister Bhupesh Baghel said the martyrdom of security personnel will not go waste and the security forces will combat the outlawed Maoists more aggressively.

He paid tributes to the jawans killed in a powerful Improvised Explosive Device (IED) blast detonated by the Maoists in Dantewada, about 450 km south of Chhattisgarh capital Raipur.

"Our jawans died fighting the Maoists. During the last four years, more security camps were set up in core areas eliminating the liberty for the rebels to go into hiding. The battle against the left-wing extremists is now in its final stage," Baghel asserted while he also reiterated that the door for a dialogue with the Maoists is open but they had to express their faith in the Constitution and give up arms.

The CM who was scheduled to visit poll-bound Karnataka for the election campaign has cancelled his trip. According to state public works department (PWD) officials, owing to the non-availability of security cover by the forces for the last three months, the road construction work got delayed in and around the area where the IED explosion occurred.

The relatives of two slain jawans didn't perform the last rites at their native villages but opted Dantewada district headquarters owing to the Maoist terror. Unconfirmed reports said the rebels had warned villagers not to allow any jawan to be cremated in their respective village. There are a good number of former Maoist cadres who earlier surrendered and joined as district reserve guards (DRG) personnel. Their areas of operation fall in areas having a strong presence of left-wing guerillas.

The CM was accompanied by the state home minister Tamradhwaj Sahu, senior officials besides people's representatives at Karli police line in Dantewada and laid a floral wreath on the coffins of the departed security personnel.

Ten personnel of Dantewada District Reserve Guards (DRG) and a driver were killed after the vehicle they were travelling in was hit by an IED explosion at Aranpur on Wednesday. The blast tossed the vehicle several feet in the air and left an 8-ft deep and 12-ft wide crater-like structure on the road.

Tipped off about the presence of Maoists close to Sameli and Aranpur, a team of DRG had left on anti-Maoist search operations in the region three days ago. They were returning to Dantewada in a private vehicle from Aranpur when the Maoists ambushed the personnel. The attack came after a gap of nearly two years.

The Maoists with a presence in the seven districts of Bastar zone in south Chhattisgarh are waging a virtual war against the security forces and the state for over three decades.

Meanwhile, the Maoists credited their military wing People's Liberation Guerrilla Army with the latest attack. "You are being used as a tool by the Centre and state against enemies of the people," said the note issued by Sainath, secretary, Darbha Division Committee of the CPI (Maoist).

The Dornapal-Aranpur-Jagargunda route is often cited as Khooni Sadak — the 'blood-stained road' as several jawans besides those engaged in the road construction have been killed by Maoists in a decade. The inhospitable area between Aranpur to Jagargunda is surrounded by hillocks.

State govt told to hand over CCTV footage

A division bench headed by acting Chief Justice TS Sivagnanam directed the state government to hand over the CCTV footage and other documents related to the violence to the central agency within two weeks.

THE Calcutta High Court on Thursday ordered the National Investigation Agency (NIA) to probe into the violence during Ram Navami celebrations in West Bengal's Howrah, Hooghly and South Dinajpur districts last month.

A division bench headed by acting Chief Justice of Calcutta High Court TS Sivagnanam directed the state government to hand over the CCTV footage and other documents related to the violence to the central agency within two weeks.

Hearing a public interest litigation (PIL) filed by Leader of Opposition Suvendu Adhikari of the BJP and others, the high court directed transfer of the investigation into violence at Shibpur in Howrah and Rishra in Hooghly district to the National Investigation Agency (NIA) from the West Bengal Police.

Clashes broke out between two groups at Shibpur area of Howrah during Ram Navami festivities on March 30, during which several vehicles were torched and shops were ransacked. Violence was also reported on April 2 evening during a procession as part of the festival at Rishra. A youth from Bihar's Munger was arrested on the charge of carrying a firearm during a Ram Navami procession in Howrah, whom the TMC claimed was a BJP supporter.

Welcoming the HC order, BJP's state president Sukanta Majumdar tweeted, "Welcome the Calcutta HC decision to transfer the violence incidents happened on Ram Navami in WB to NIA. Three riots were pre-planned and instigated with the support of TMC govt. It was triggered by the inflammatory speech of the CM."

Will not notify fact-check unit till July 5: Centre

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Union government on Friday informed the Bombay High court that the Fact Checking Unit (FCU) under the amended IT Rules will not be notified till July 5. Comedian Kunal Kamra had filed a petition challenging Rule 3 of the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Amendment Rules, 2023 allowing the Government's fact checking unit to identify "fake or misleading news" about government policies, etc.

A division bench of Justice GS Patel and Justice Neela Gokhale took note of Kamra's plea, stating that the amended rule, even without the FCU notification, will deter free speech. "We believe this is not a reason to immediately go into the question of stay or suspension of the rule as it stands, as without a fact check unit being notified, the rule cannot operate," said the bench. The Centre has also said that Kamra's plea is premature as the FCU has not been notified yet and no social media intermediary has been directed to remove any content.

Key BJP meet amid rift in Manipur unit, CM says discussed 'Mann Ki Baat'

Sources said that barring one, all legislators, including Chief Minister N Biren Singh, party's Manipur in-charge Sambit Patra and state leaders attended the meet.

The CM, however, said the meeting was called to discuss preparations for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 100th 'Mann Ki Baat' on April 30.

Four MLAs — retired IPS officer Thokchom Radheshyam Singh, Karam Shyam, P Brojen Singh and Kh Raghumani Singh — have resigned from their respective administrative posts in the past fortnight. Radheshyam and Shyam, both former ministers, had resigned as advisors to the CM and chairman of Tourism Corporation Manipur Limited respectively as they were not given any responsibility.

Raghumani, who is a retired IAS officer, had quit as the chairman of Manipur Renewable Energy Development Agency for "personal reasons and in public interest" while Brojen, the chairman of Manipur Development Society, resigned on "personal grounds".

THE family members of all ten detainees who are being held under the National Security Act (NSA) and lodged at Dibrugarh Central Jail in Assam met them for the first time today and felt satisfied. The lawyers accompanying them claimed that Pro-Khalistani sympathizer Amritpal Singh has suggested they form a panel to collectively fight the cases of all those arrested under the NSA.

Speaking to this newspaper over the phone from Dibrugarh, SGPC member and panel head Bhagwant Singh Sialka said, "The advocates should not engage in a race for credit while pursuing the cases. They should work collectively, and a panel will be formed shortly for this purpose. A letter in this regard was drafted and signed by Amritpal Singh today when we met him and others in the jail along with their family."

The family members met the detainees in jail for about four hours, packed food, and clothes for them. "All the family members were satisfied after talking to them," said Sialka.

Homecoming in MP BJP as ex-finance minister's son returns to party fold

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

Siddharth had quit party in 2022

Siddharth Malaiya, son of former state finance minister Jayant Malaiya, quit the BJP in June 2022. He was suspended from the party in May 2021 after the party lost an assembly by-poll. He quit the party 14 months later in June 2022.

WITH assembly polls just six months away, it's not just the season of political switchovers, but also an ideal time for ghar wapasi (homecoming) of politicians in Madhya Pradesh.

A month after Uma Bharti-loyalist Pritam Lodhi, who was expelled by the BJP over abusive remarks about Brahmins, returned to the party fold, Siddharth Malaiya, son of former state finance minister Jayant Malaiya, who quit the BJP in June 2022, also made a comeback on Thursday.

Malaiya rejoined the party in the presence of senior party leaders, including party's national in-charge for MP state P Murlidhar Rao, CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan, state party president VD Sharma and home minister Narottam Mishra, ending speculations about him joining the Congress and being fielded from his family's pocket-borough Damoh assembly seat in year-end polls.

As per political watchers, the opposition Congress, which has already managed two major switchovers from the BJP – ex-MLA Rao Deshraj Singh Yadav's son Rao Yadvendra Singh Yadav and ex-Lok Sabha member Makhansingh Solanki – in the last few weeks, has been in touch with many other BJP leaders, including Siddharth Malaiya.

Siddharth's loss to the Congress or the AAP would have been a significant political loss for the BJP in Damoh district of Bundelkhand region. However, it remains to be seen whether he will be fielded by the BJP from the Damoh Vidhan Sabha seat. The seat was won six times in a row between 1990 and 2013 by his father and veteran BJP leader Jayant Malaiya, who lost the seat in 2018 polls to first time Congress candidate Rahul Lodhi by just 790 votes.

Pandits wary as L-G reaches out to employees

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

JAMMU and Kashmir Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha on Wednesday inaugurated 576 flats for the Kashmiri Pandit employees recruited under the prime minister's package, and said 2,000 more such accommodations will be ready by the end of this year.

As L-G Sinha inaugurated the newly-constructed flats at Baramulla, Bandipora, Ganderbal and Shopian in Valley, the PM package Pandit employees said most of the migrant employees are serving in Anantnag in south Kashmir and Srinagar in central Kashmir, where the accommodation is needed the most as the employees are living in rented accommodations in those areas.

The transit accommodations have been a long-pending demand of the Kashmiri Pandit employees under the PM's package. The demand gained momentum after the killing of an employee, Rahul Bhat, in May last year.

"The government is sensitive to issues of Kashmiri Pandits and understands their pain. We are working with the right intent to complete the construction of residential accommodations on priority," Sinha said.

The Lt Governor said the administration has taken various initiatives to expedite the process of construction of housing units for PM Package employees and 2,000 more flats will be completed by December 2023.

J&K L-G Manoj Sinha inaugurates newly-constructed buildings on Thursday | EXPRESS

The PM Package Pandit employees resumed their duties in the Valley in March this year after over eight months of strike following killing of Pandit employee Rahul Bhat by militants inside Tehsildar's office in central Kashmir's Budgam district on May 12 last year.

The Pandit employees had gone on strike after the killing of Bhat to demand relocation to Jammu in view of their security concerns. Ranjan Jotshi vice president All Migrant Displaced Employees Association Kashmir said handing over 576 flats to PM package employees is a welcome step.

Around 40 per cent of nearly 5,000 PM package employees serving in the Valley are posted in Anantnag in south Kashmir and Srinagar in central Kashmir.

"About 700-800 Pandit employees posted in Anantnag are living in rented accommodation. Similarly, about 1,000 Pandit employees are living in rented accommodation in Srinagar," Jotshi said.

He said the government should take immediate steps to provide accommodation to those employees living in rented accommodation in view of the security concerns.

"The government had assured us to accommodate the employees in hotels and address their security concerns. But this proposal, it seems, has been shelved," Jotshi said.

After the return of Pandit employees in March, the government had decided to lodge them in hotels to ensure their safety and security. "The government should take care of accommodation and ensure safety and security of each and every Pandit employee," added Jotshi.

Meanwhile, the Lt Governor also spoke on progressive reforms introduced to boost infrastructure, employment generation and ease of living in the Union territory.

Presently, domestic and foreign companies are willing to invest in Jammu and Kashmir, he said.

There are more than Rs 1.25 lakh crore worth of highway and tunnel projects are going on in the UT. Increased flight operations in both Jammu and Srinagar airports and improved road and rail connectivity have brought J&K closer to the world, Sinha said.

In MP, an 11-yr case involving Scindia aide echoes Anand Mohan episode

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

'Non-bailable warrants against Singh'

Kansana was the Morena district panchayat chairman (then with Congress), when a team of Delhi Police caught his brother Sanjeev Singh in a criminal case and took him to the Morena City Kotwali. A Delhi court had issued non-bailable warrants against Sanjeev and two others. Kansana and his aides freed Sanjeev from police custody allegedly after opening fire on the Delhi police team inside Morena Kotwali premises.

A large section of BJP continues to rail against Bihar government over the release of former MP Anand Mohan Singh (who was serving life sentence in the 1994 murder of an IAS officer). However, the BJP government in Madhya Pradesh has reportedly given its nod to withdraw an 11-year-old criminal case against Jyotiraditya Scindia loyalist Raghuraj Singh Kansana.

The 2012 case refers to an attack on a Delhi Police team, which includes charges of dacoity and attempt-to-murder. The case suffered a jolt from a special MP/MLA court in Gwalior on Wednesday. The court while rejecting the government plea held that since the case involves serious offences, allowing its withdrawal would neither be in the interest of law nor public. The court posted the matter for hearing on May 3.

In 2012 the state was ruled by the same Shivraj Singh Chouhan-led government. That year, Kansana and aides were booked under IPC sections 307, 186, 353, 332, 224, 225, 398 (attempt to murder, obstructing public servant in discharging duties and voluntarily causing hurt to a public servant and dacoity) and also provisions of the MP Dacoity and Kidnapping Affected Areas Act.

Kansana was the Morena district panchayat chairman (then with Congress), when a team of Delhi Police caught his brother Sanjeev Singh in a criminal case and took him to the Morena City Kotwali. A Delhi court had issued non-bailable warrants against Sanjeev and two others. Kansana and his aides freed Sanjeev from police custody allegedly after opening fire on the Delhi police team inside the Morena Kotwali premises. A case was registered in May 2012.

Kansana was elected the Congress MLA from Morena seat in 2018 assembly polls. Attempts were made during the Kamal Nath-led Congress regime to have the case against Kansana withdrawn. But the state law department in 2020 conveyed its disagreement to the state home department. It said the charges against Kansana and aides were too serious to be dropped.

A few months later, Kansana along with 21 other Congress MLAs loyal to Scindia, rebelled against the Kamal Nath government, leading to its fall and the return of Chouhan-led government in March 2020. It was on April 19 the government reportedly gave its nod for withdrawing the case.

A week later, the special MP/MLA court in Gwalior said: "Allowing withdrawal of the case (in final phases) on government plea would neither be in the interest of law nor in public, as the allegations are serious," additional government counsel in Gwalior Dharmendra Sharma told this paper.

Smartphone exports double to $11 billion in 2022-23; Apple iPhones account for 50% of exports in value terms

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

AS India's smartphone exports doubled in 2022-23, three countries – UAE, US and Netherlands – accounted for 52% of the exports in value terms. The UAE was the largest buyer with $2.6 billion worth of smartphones shipped to the country followed by the US, which imported $2.2 billion worth of smarphones from India, and the Netherlands at $1 billion.

India's smartphone exports touched $11 billion in 2022-23, which is double that of the previous year. European countries were the buyers of over 45% of India's exported smartphones. India smartphones reached over 50 countries across the globe. Though Apple iPhones accounted for close to 50% of the total exports in value terms, South Korean-tech-giant Samsung was the most exported brand in volume. As per the Counterpoint Research, in 2022, Samsung was the most exported brand, contributing almost 69% of total exports volume. This year, the company is planning to make India its smartphone manufacturing hub.

"Samsung is planning to expand capacity of its Noida facility and it is already working with local partners too for the same," said Shilpi Jain Senior Research Analyst at Counterpoint Research.

The American tech-giant Apple, which grabbed eyeballs lately, increased its export from India significantly from Q4 2022. Jain said Apple is increasing its 'Make in India' capabilities not just for domestic consumption but for exports as well. It plans to shift 25% of its manufacturing to India.

India has taken a giant leap in the smartphone manufacturing in the past few years, thanks to the Production-linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme. Many technology giants like Apple, Samsung, Oppo, Vivo, Xiaomi, and Lava have also set up their bases and expanded operations in India. Recently, Apple unveiled two retail stores in India. According to the IT ministry, mobile phone manufacturing saw a 66% rise to ₹45,000 crore within the first year of the roll-out of the scheme in April 2020.

"Samsung (73%), Apple (20%), and Xiaomi (3%) led the smartphone exports from India in 2022," said Menka Kumari, Senior Analyst - Industry Intelligence Group (IIG), CyberMedia Research (CMR). Other players which exports from India are Motorola and Xiaomi.

WILL STICK TO FRESHERS' HIRING: LTIMINDTREE

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

LTIMindtree on Thursday said they continue to remain on target with the company's onboarding programme for freshers.

"We are also on track with the FY24 plan that we had set for ourselves at the beginning of the year," the company's chief executive officer and managing director Debashis Chatterjee told this newspaper. His comment comes at a time when freshers who received offer letters from the company in January 2022 are still waiting to be onboarded.

Speaking about the training programme IGNITE that freshers have to go through, Chatterjee said it was launched in 2019 and the focus is to use the time available (between graduation and onboarding) to upskill themselves and be a lot more relevant. IGNITE is now extended to erstwhile Mindtree freshers post the merger.

"We normally onboard our freshers in the first three quarters of the financial year which will happen in FY24. In the past year, because we were going through the merger and systems were getting integrated, we had to pause that in Q3 and Q4...this will now come back on track," he added.

LTIMindtree on Thursday reported consolidated net profit of ₹1,114 crore for the March 2023 quarter, which is flat, compared with ₹1,108 crore in the same quarter last year. Its revenue for the quarter stood at ₹8,691 crore, an increase of 21.9% YoY. The Board of Directors has declared a final dividend of ₹40 per equity share.

Talking about the demand environment, the CEO said the demand is very strong and that they have a pretty good pipeline. The focus of clients is shifting towards more efficiency rather than transformation.

"The overall demand pipeline is pretty robust but at the same time the decision-making process is taking much longer, probably that is because of macroeconomic and cautiousness that clients are exercising.

Apart from the fact that the decision making is delayed I don't think there is any concern per se in terms of the overall demand environment that we are seeing both in client portfolio as well as industries that we are supporting," he added.

The company is also focused on generative AI, and it is working with six customers at present. As part of the generative AI platform, LTIMindtree has also launched four co-pilots including cloud transformation and content generation.

Amid protest, AI announces hiring over 1,000 pilots

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU

Air India has announced plans to hire more than 1,000 pilots including captains and trainers as it seeks to expand its fleet and network.

The airline, which currently has more than 1,800 pilots, has placed orders for 470 aircraft with Boeing and Airbus, including for wide-body planes.

"We are offering multiple opportunities and accelerated growth across our A320, B777, B787, and B737 fleet for captains and first officers, as well as trainers," said Air India in an advertisement release, adding that that more than 500 aircraft are joining its fleet.

The decision to hire pilots comes at a time when the airline in facing employee unrest over its revised salary structure that came out last week.

More than 1,500 pilots of Air India have written to Ratan Tata, the Chairman Emeritus of Tata Sons alleging that they are not being treated with 'respect' and 'dignity' by the HR department of the airline. On April 17, Air India rolled out a revamped compensation structure for its pilots and cabin crew, which has since been rejected by the two unions -- Indian Commercial Pilots Association (ICPA) and Indian Pilots Guild (IPG). They had earlier urged their members not to sign on the document, saying that the terms and conditions were being imposed on them. They have also called the new contract 'illegal' and 'unethical', and had warned that any coercive steps will lead to "industrial unrest".

Godrej to buy Raymond's consumer biz

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

GODREJ CONSUMER PRODUCTS (GCPL), a Godrej Group company that owns Cinthol, Hit, Ezee and GoodKnight brands, has signed an agreement to acquire Raymond's consumer care business for ₹2,825 crore.

Raymond's consumer care business includes brands like Park Avenue, Kamasutra and KS Spark. GCPL has a strong presence in hair care, home care and personal care categories and this acquisition will further cement its position in the consumer care segment.

"This acquisition allows us to complement our business portfolio and growth strategy with under-penetrated categories that offer a long runway of growth. Raymond is a leading player in the deodorants and sexual wellness categories with brands like Park Avenue and KamaSutra," said Sudhir Sitapati, managing director and CEO, GCPL. "These categories have the potential to deliver double-digit multi-decade growth given the low per capita consumption in India compared to similar emerging markets," he added.

The per capita consumption of deodorants in India is 0.4x that in Indonesia, 0.05x that in Brazil and 0.04x that in the USA, according to Sitapati. The firm looks forward to building on this potential by unlocking significant integration synergies with its business. The RCCL FMCG business is being sold to GCPL, along with the trademarks of Park Avenue, KS, KamaSutra and Premium, through a slump sale, said the company in a statement.

"While we have paid ₹2,725 crore net of cash for the deal, the real value is around ₹2,325 crore as we will have around Rs400 crore of lower cash tax due to slump sale. This works out to around 3.75x value to sales," said Sameer Shah, chief financial officer, GCPL.

Reacting to the news, Godrej Consumer's stock price closed at ₹953.20 apiece down by 2.4 percent on the Bombay Stock Exchange while Raymond's stock price closed at Rs1,717.35 apiece, up by Rs105.60 or 6.55 percent after gaining by nearly 9 percent in the overall session.

"We have divested our FMCG business with trademarks of Park Avenue, Kamasutra for FMCG categories to Godrej Consumer Products. We take pride in building strong homegrown brands that are amongst the leaders in their categories," Atul Singh, Group Vice Chairman, Raymond Group. "Having brought these brands at the forefront of consumer recall, we believe that Godrej Consumer Products will provide the requisite impetus to further drive the growth of these brands," he added.

RBI feels poor strategies can trigger crisis, looks at banks' biz models

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is looking at the business models of banks more closely as it feels that poor strategies can trigger a crisis, said Governor Shaktikanta Das, on Thursday.

The Governor said the recent developments in the US, which has seen the implosion of lenders like Silicon Valley Bank and a rush to limit the contagion of stress across the system, may be because of poor business models.

He added that Indian banks have been able to stay resilient and have not been impacted adversely by the "recent sparks of financial instability seen in some advanced economies" courtesy the work done in this aspect by RBI and the banks themselves. "The recent developments in the US raise a question whether the business model of individual banks that have faced challenges whether the business models were right," Das said. "The RBI has started looking at the business models of banks more closely ... deficiencies (in it) can spark a crisis," Das said, speaking at the inaugural global conference on financial resilience organised by the College of Supervisors, which RBI started last year.

Business models can sometimes create risks in certain parts of the balance sheet of a bank which going forward can blow up into a bigger crisis, Das said. Recent events in the banking landscape of the US and Europe suggest risks could crop up from segments of its balance sheet which might have been considered relatively safer, Das said, amid several analysts suggesting the implosion of Silicon Valley Bank was triggered by lapses on something as basic as asset liability mismatches.

He urged the management and bank boards to continually assess the financial risks and focus on building up adequate capital and liquidity buffers even beyond the regulatory minimum for continued resilience and sustainable growth.

Das said financial resilience is linked to a bank's business model and strategy, and added that among other aspects, RBI has prescribed capital and liquidity buffers, and nudged lenders to strengthen capital buffers in times of plenty availability like Covid-19 crisis.

Usha says protest tarnishing the image of India, wrestlers bemused

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE Indian Olympic Association (IOA) president, PT Usha, has termed the decision of top wrestlers to protest on the streets disappointing and damaging to the image of the country. On Thursday, the IOA had its executive committee meeting at the IOA Bhawan in New Delhi and formed a three-member ad-hoc committee.

Wrestlers Bajrang Punia, Sakshi Malik and Vinesh Phogat as well as coaches and other grapplers hit the streets last week protesting against Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh. They said charges of sexual harassment levelled against him are grave and despite filing police complaint, no FIR has been filed against Singh. They were forced to resume protest and take the matter to the Supreme Court.

During an interaction after the meeting, Usha said that "for sexual harassment and all those things, IOA have a committee, the athletes commission... instead of going to the streets and protest, they should have come to us earlier itself. They have not come to us." She said that after government had requested them to form an ad-hoc committee, they have formed one with three members. As of now, Bhupendra Bajwa and shooter Suma Shirur are in the panel while a retired judge will be named later. Bajwa will represent the IOA while Shirur is a Sportsperson of Outstanding Merit. Both members are from two different sports and have nothing to do with wrestling.

When asked if the IOA would go to Jantar Mantar and speak with the wrestlers, Usha said they should have come to IOA earlier. "They should have some discipline," she said. "If we cannot solve the problem, then they could have gone anywhere. We have to look after the players' interest and we have to compete at the Asian Games. For that, we have constituted an ad-hoc committee."

Usha was accompanied by joint-secretary and acting IOA CEO Kalyan Chaubey, who toed the IOA chief's line and said that she would like to say that this agitation is not good for the image of the country. "We (our country) have a very good reputation and this negative publicity is not good for the country," he said. "We had a very long meeting today (Thursday). We discussed the issues with a thorough feeling of the wrestlers, we are with all sportspersons not just the wrestlers... we want to be with them but also under the rules, regulations and the laws of the land." He also said that the enquiry committee the IOA has formed is 'very good' but we need to have same patience as these are very serious allegations and the hearing is still going on. "We have to see what is coming out of the committee report and then only can we comment anything on this." He said that the day-to-day activities of WFI will be taken care of by the ad-hoc committee immediately. "Within 45 days, they will hold the election as requested by the sports ministry

Later in a statement she said, "Those protesting are renowned wrestlers who brought laurels to the country. They have an equal responsibility of safeguarding the interest of our sports, sportspersons and also the image of our country. However, I'm disappointed with the way they are sitting on dharna, asking political parties to join them.

The constitution of IOA, in order to respect the autonomy and independence of the national sports federation, doesn't allow the forming of an ad-hoc committee but the IOA said that they made an exception this time because of the impasse.

VINESH was visibly upset while talking to reporters in New Delhi. "We are not on the streets, we are on the soil of our country," she said. "We are citizens of independent India and this is our right. If she is in pain then she can come to us and join us. We can share our problems. They have formed a committee but not once has she contacted on phone or message." Bajrang too spoke and said that they did not expect this from Usha. "If she thinks this is affecting the image of the country, she should also think about how she broke down when her academy was facing some problem some months ago. If such a thing can happen to her who is an MP, then what can happen to us normal players. We have just won medals but we don't have any power," she said. "We don't know why she spoke like this. Being a woman, why she spoke against women. We are really hurt."

Southpaw's powerplay aggression augurs well for franchise with Buttler changing his approach upfront this year

Yash, Royal ENFORCER

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

YASHASVI Jaiswal has inked a few dates to remind himself of his nascent cricketing journey. 16-10-2019 finds a mention, the day when he became the youngest batter to hit a List-A double 100. 7-5-2022 is also prominent; on that Saturday, he helped Rajasthan Royals to a crucial win in an IPL game. Chances are once the current season is over, 27-4-2023 may find a home on one of his forearms or the torso. In front of the yellow Wall — the Sawai Mansingh Stadium looked more like Borussia Dortmund's home venue rather than Royals' on Thursday night — the southpaw played what's fast becoming his trademark; an explosive innings centred on taking down any bowling type in the first six overs.

Jaiswal, even in his breakout first year at the franchise in 2021, had shown a penchant for using the powerplay as a canvas to paint very attractive but small cameos. Chennai Super Kings, who were on the receiving end of the assault on Thursday, had intimate knowledge of that. At the Sheikh Zayed Stadium in Abu Dhabi in 2021, Jaiswal's powerplay hedonism spoke volumes about his potential. He was dismissed just after the first six overs but he had satisfied the role given to him, a 21-ball 50 saw the then teen take down Josh Hazlewood with the field up. 38 runs came off just 12 balls.

He wasn't as severe on any particular bowler on Thursday but it spoke about his importance to the franchise's scheme of things. Considering Jos Buttler is now looking to stay on for longer as a result of which he has cut out risks in the powerplay, Jaiswal's role is all the more important. Of the 304 runs Jaiswal has compiled in 2023, 186 have come inside the powerplay, just 15 behind Faf du Plessis' 201. The uncapped Indian batter — he will surely be capped at some stage this year if they have designs on taking him for next year's T20 World Cup — also gets a huge percentage of runs in boundaries. Out of that 186, 158 (32x4, 5x6) have come in fours or sixes.

His range was on show against Akash Singh who conceded three boundaries in the very first over. Jaiswal, blessed with timing, also loves to take the aerial route and he used both sides of the strip as he reduced Buttler to a passenger at the other end. It's of course not a surprise to see Jaiswal using the first over to set the tempo. Of the 851 runs he has made in his IPL career, 139 have come in the first over. While other batters use it to suss the surface, he is a batter who craves instant gratification. If the first over was the entree, the third was the dessert as he took 18 off another Akash over, one maximum over long on the pick of a very attractive bunch.

If there's one criticism, it's what he does after the powerplay. Considering he isn't a six-hitter as yet (he hits one every 19 deliveries or so), he does have the tendency to slow down as the fours dry up post the first six overs. In 2023, he strikes at 163 in the powerplay but that drops 128 post it. In this phase, the boundaries hit per balls faced ratio also drops alarmingly to over seven balls. If he can address that facet of his game going forward, he can live up to his name (successful).

IOA constitution: Eyes on CEO powers, states

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

The IOA also discussed about, as directed by the Supreme Court, suggestions and objections to the IOA constitution. As reported by this newspaper, the IOA has called for an open house meeting on May 5 to look into the constitution. According to IOA, the EC members "held discussion on the Order dated April 5, 2023 of the Supreme Court of India on Appeal of SLP (C) No. 14533/2022 and decide on filing any objections or suggestions to the Constitution of IOA..."

It is understood that there are a couple of issues that the IOA would want to address and suggest changes accordingly. One is the possibility of giving voting rights to the state Olympic Associations, who have been left out in the amended constitution. The state units do not have any voting rights and they had been demanding it since the beginning.

However, all eyes will be on the Chief Executive Officer and her/his eligibility criteria. The IOA has been saying they need to modify "terms of reference for advertisement" because they are not getting responses. Despite pressure from the International Olympic Committee, after more than five months, the IOA is yet to appoint a CEO. According to the IOA constitution, they should have appointed one within 30 days. It needs to be seen if the powers of the CEO also will be diluted. Apparently there have been discussions to curtail some of the powers.

Interestingly, this new constitution was drafted after consulting all stakeholders – the IOC, the IOA and sports ministry. And bringing in changes after a few months may not be ideal. The IOC has already taken exception to the absence of a CEO.

Also, IOA's constitution says, "No amendment shall be made to these Rules and Regulations except at the Annual or Special meeting of the General Assembly and unless supported by two-thirds of the representatives present and voting. All proposed amendments must be presented to the Secretary General/CEO..." "No provisions (of) national sports code shall be applicable to the IOA if they are in contradiction with the Olympic Charter and this newly adopted Constitution."

Probe impartial: Sports Min

ENS @New Delhi

SPORTS Minister Anurag Singh Thakur on Thursday said the government had grant opportunities to all the protesting wrestlers to present their case before the oversight committee as it wanted an 'impartial probe' on charges, including sexual harassment, against Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh. The minister also added that the Narendra Modi Government has always been with the athletes as the game and sports persons are its priority.

"A few wrestlers are sitting in protest at Jantar Mantar. I have spent 12 hours with them — seven hours on the first day and five hours the next day (in January). I had listened to all their grievances, held a press conference at 2-2.30 at night, formed a committee after talking to them. They had asked to add a member and gave Babita Phogat's name, and we added her to the committee. There is nothing in our mind, we wanted an impartial probe," Thakur said at a press conference in Shimla.

Wrestlers Vinesh Phogat, Bajrang Punia and Sakshi Malik are the three central characters in the renewed protests against the WFI president. "Whoever wanted to present their version before the oversight committee, was given a chance, there were no restrictions. We even increased the timeline of the probe, there were 14 meetings. Whoever wanted to come, came. We gave a chance to every athlete to present their case," Thakur said when asked about the protests.

PV SINDHU sailed into the quarterfinals of the women's singles event at the Badminton Asia Championships with a straight game win over China's Han Yue here on Thursday. Besides Sindhu, India's ace men's singles shuttler HS Prannoy battled his way into the quarterfinals but it was curtains for compatriot Kidambi Srikanth.

While Prannoy, seeded eighth, had to battle it out for an hour and two minutes to prevail over Indonesian Chico Aura Dwi Wardoyo 16-21 21-5 18-21 in a round of 16 match, Srikanth was shown the door by fourth seeded Japanese Kodai Naraoka 14-21 22-20 9-21. Prannoy will next play Kanta Tsuneyama of Japan. In mixed doubles, Rohan Kapoor and N Sikki Reddy entered the quarterfinals after the fourth seeded Korean pair of Seo Seung Jae Chae Yu Jung handed the Indians a walkover.

City thumps Arsenal, take big step in title race

AFP @Manchester

BILLED as a Premier League title decider, it was barely even a contest as Manchester City thrashed Arsenal 4-1 on Wednesday to close in on becoming English champions for the fifth time in six years.

City have not even hit top spot yet as Arsenal remain two points in front.

But the momentum of the title race looks to have decisively swung the way of Pep Guardiola's men as they have the chance to pull away into the distance with two games in hand. The Gunners have only lost four games all season but tellingly two of them have come when faced with the ultimate test in City.

A 3-1 home defeat when the sides met in February was at least a game decided by fine margins. This time round it was a rout."We lost in a very different way at the Emirates," said Arsenal boss Mikel Arteta. "Today the quality in the performance was very far away from what we are capable of."

Manchester City's Kevin De Bruyne (R) celebrates scoring the opening goal with his teammates during the Premier League clash against Arsenal on Wednesday | AFP

A brittle Arsenal defence, shorn of the reassuring presence of William Saliba, could not contain the power of Erling Haaland, even if it did take until the final attack of the game for the Norwegian to score his 49th goal of the season.

Haaland instead turned provider, twice, for Kevin De Bruyne to fire home early in each half.In between times, Arsenal's weakness at defending set-pieces was exposed as John Stones rose highest to head home De Bruyne's free-kick in first half stoppage time.

Arsenal's title challenge was unexpected and arguably premature for the youngest squad in the league. They hade not even qualified for the Champions League for the past six years, something which they are already assured of for next season. Yet that cannot mask the disappointment of having crumbled once the pressure was ramped up on the run-in.

RESULTS

Premier League: Nottingham Forest 3-1 Brighton, Chelsea 0-2 Brentford, West Ham 1-2 Liverpool, Man City 4-1 Arsenal.

La Liga: Celta Vigo 1-0 Elche, Rayo 2-1 Barcelona.

Coming up, gas stations in space to fuel satellites

Orbit Fab to provide refuelling technology to extend their orbital life

SPACE

COLORADO SPRINGS: The US company Orbit Fab is aiming to produce the go-to "gas stations" in space, its CEO says hoping its refuelling technology will make the surging satellite industry more sustainable—and profitable.

The solar panels typically attached to satellites can generate energy for their onboard systems such as cameras and radios, but can't help the orbiting objects adjust their positions, explains Daniel Faber, who co-founded the company in 2018.

"Everything always drifts, and so very quickly, you're not where you needed to be—so you need to keep adjusting, which means you need to keep using up propellant," he says at the space industry's annual gathering in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Satellites' lives are therefore limited by how much fuel they can carry along with them—at least for now.

"If you can refuel satellites in orbit," Faber says, "you can stop them having to be thrown away"—a model he describes as "crazy" due to their high cost to manufacture and launch. His company envisions sending several large tanks into orbit, each containing up to several tons of fuel.

Then smaller, more easily manoeuvrable vessels will shuttle back and forth between the tanks and satellites—like robotic pump attendants.

Asked what the risks associated with operating such a system in orbit are, Faber is candid: "Everything you might imagine."

But he reassures that with lots of testing on the ground, and in orbit, "it's going to be safe." Like cars, satellites hoping to receive additional propellant from Orbit Fab will have to have compatible fuel ports. Faber says that between 200 and 250 satellites are already being designed to use his company's system.

It's a market with room to grow: Some 24,500 satellites have been scheduled for launch between 2022 and 2031, according to the consultancy Euroconsult. Orbit Fab, which employs about 60 people and is looking to hire 25 more, has already launched one tank into orbit and next plans to conduct fuel transfer tests.

In 2019, it proved the feasibility of the system with water-transfer tests at the International Space Station.

"Our first contract with the US government is to deliver them fuel in 2025" to Space Force satellites, Faber says.

He says they are planning to launch only a couple fuel shuttles to geostationary orbit, where satellites mostly lie in "a single plane around the equator" at a high altitude of about 36,000 km. Satellites in low Earth orbit have much different trajectories, and more fuel shuttles will be needed.

Another added benefit of in-orbit refuelling is the possibility of freeing up the key metric in rocket launches: weight.

Projects which were previously deemed infeasible for being too heavy might therefore see the light of day.

Culprit of Horn of Africa's drought

CLIMATE

A devastating drought that has struck the Horn of Africa could not have occurred without global warming, according to a new report released on Thursday from an international team of climate scientists. "Human-caused climate change has made agricultural drought in the Horn of Africa about 100 times more likely," said a summary of the report by the World Weather Attribution (WWA) group. "The ongoing devastating drought would not have happened at all without the effect of greenhouse gas emissions," it added. Since late 2020, countries on the Horn of Africa —Djibouti, Ethiopia, Eritrea, Kenya, Somalia, South Sudan and Sudan—have been suffering the worst drought in 40 years. The extended drought has led to the deaths of millions of heads of cattle and wiped out crops. The WWA study concentrated on the three areas worst hit by the drought: southern Ethiopia, Somalia and eastern Kenya.

Einstein's risky Belgian stay after Hitler came to power

HISTORY

DE HAAN: Sitting alone on a bench, legs crossed, Albert Einstein enjoys the tranquillity of a public park in the Belgian coastal resort of De Haan.

His bronze statue attracts excited tourists to the town where the famous 1921 Nobel physics laureate sojourned 90 years ago, despite a Nazi secret society putting a price to his head.

He never returned to Europe again. It is a relatively unknown episode in the life of the American physicist of German Jewish origin, who was born in 1879 and died in 1955.

When Adolf Hitler came to power in early 1933, Einstein, a native of the southern German city of Ulm, was already teaching his theory of relativity in the United States.

Hitler's Nazi Germany swiftly hunted Jews, targeting Einstein's home near Berlin and confiscating his belongings.

On his return to Europe from across the Atlantic, Einstein landed in Belgium in March 1933 with Elsa, his second wife, fearful that returning to Germany would be too dangerous.

The physicist spent six months at De Haan under the careful watch of Belgian police. "My mother knew Einstein well when she was young. Every morning, he walked on the promenade or on the beach," said Brigitte Hochs, a 78-year-old Belgian. The Hochs family ran the Bellevue Hotel for decades, with a building in the Belle Epoque style.

The Einsteins rented one of them, the Villa Savoyarde.

The file devoted to him in the Belgian state archives shows the extent to which Einstein was threatened during his escapades on the shores of the North Sea. "The file is a real jackpot. Through the surveillance reports, we discover professor Einstein's personality," said archivist Filip Strubbe.

"One of the reports says he liked to walk on the promenade at 2:00 am or 3:00 am without notifying police. This made his protection difficult." Two state security officials had to closely follow his every action because the Nazis put a price on his head. One Nazi magazine named Einstein as an "enemy of the regime" and put a $5,000 bounty (worth more than $110,000 today) on his head. When a Jewish researcher was shot dead in the Czech Republic in August 1933 on Nazi orders, Einstein understood he was no longer safe in Belgium. From the Ostend, he went to London from where he emigrated to the US. The statue in De Haan is accompanied by one of his most famous quotes: "Imagination is more important than knowledge."

NATO, partners send 1.5K armoured vehicles to Kyiv

More than 98% combat vehicles promised to Ukraine delivered

KYIV

NATO allies and partner countries have delivered more than 98% of the combat vehicles promised to Ukraine during Russia's invasion and war, the military alliance's chief said on Thursday, giving Kyiv a bigger punch as it contemplates launching a counteroffensive.

Along with more than 1,550 armoured vehicles, 230 tanks and other equipment, Ukraine's allies have sent 'vast amounts of ammunition' and also trained and equipped more than nine new Ukrainian brigades, NATO Secretary-General Jens Stoltenberg said.

More than 30,000 troops are estimated to make up the new brigades. Some NATO partner countries, such as Sweden and Australia, have also provided armoured vehicles.

"This will put Ukraine in a strong position to continue to retake occupied territory," Stoltenberg told reporters in Brussels.

His comments came a day after Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said he and Chinese leader Xi Jinping had a "long and meaningful" phone call in their first known contact since Russia's full-scale invasion more than a year ago.

Though Zelenskyy said he was encouraged by Wednesday's call and Western officials welcomed Xi's move, the development didn't appear to bring about any immediate shift in peace prospects.

Russia and Ukraine are far apart in their terms for peace, and Beijing "while looking to position itself as a global diplomatic power" has refused to criticise Moscow's invasion.

The Chinese government sees Russia as a diplomatic ally in opposing US influence in global affairs, and Xi visited Moscow last month.

Stoltenberg said the 31 NATO allies were committed to shoring up Ukraine's military, adding that taking back land occupied by the Kremlin's forces would give Kyiv a stronger negotiating position if peace talks occur. Ukrainian officials said China's overture was encouraging. Prime Minister Denys Shmyhal on Thursday described the call between Xi and Zelenskyy as "very productive."

"I'm convinced it is a good beginning for our relations in the future," Shmyhal said after visiting Pope Francis at the Vatican. But the Kremlin's response was lukewarm.

Asked if the call could help end the fighting, Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters, "We are ready to welcome anything that could lead to the termination of the conflict in Ukraine and the achievement of all the goals set by Russia." AFP

Strikes in Khartoum as truce enters final hrs

KHARTOUM

THE Sudanese army pounded paramilitaries in Khartoum with air strikes on Thursday while deadly fighting flared in Darfur, as a fragile ceasefire entered its final hours.

Ahead of the expiry of a three-day truce at midnight (2200 GMT), the army said late Wednesday it had agreed to talks in neighbouring South Sudan on extending it "at the initiative of IGAD," the East African regional bloc.

The fighting has continued despite the US-brokered ceasefire that took effect on Tuesday, with warplanes patrolling the skies over the capital's northern suburbs as fighters on the ground exchanged artillery and heavy machinegun fire, witnesses said.

Burhan agreed to the IGAD proposal for talks on extending the truce by a further 72 hours, the army added. However. the RSF's response to the proposal remains unclear.

At least 512 people have been killed and 4,193 wounded in the fighting, according to health ministry figures.

Fighting has also flared in the provinces, particularly in the war-torn western region of Darfur. Witnesses said clashes raged for a second day in the West Darfur capital El Geneina, with pro-democracy medics reporting a doctor was shot dead. "We are locked up at home and too afraid to go out, so we can't assess the scale of the damage," said a resident, who asked to remain anonymous.

Elsewhere in Darfur, there have been sporadic clashes, particularly in Nyala, the capital of South Darfur province. Thousands have fled their homes in Nyala, and others are too afraid to go outside for food and water.

The violence has trapped many civilians in their homes, where they have endured severe shortages of food, water and electricity.

Those who can afford to have taken the long and risky journey to flee the country.

Egypt said on Thursday that at least 14,000 Sudanese refugees had crossed the border into the country since fighting erupted, as well as 2,000 people from 50 other countries. AFP

COMBATING GUERRILLA TACTICS

The Public Order Bill was passed by the British parliament late Wednesday and now awaits being signed into law by King Charles III

The law aims to combat the disruptive protests and guerrilla tactics employed by climate activist groups such as Extinction Rebellion and Just Stop Oil, which have included blocking roads, to the increasing annoyance of motorists

TARGETING PEACEFUL PROTESTS

Turk said the law could see individuals banned from being in certain places at particular times and could lead to them being monitored electronically

"The grave risk here is that these orders pre-emptively limit someone's future legitimate exercise of their rights," he said

Turk voiced concern that the law seemed to target peaceful demonstrations by climate activists

"Governments should be protecting and facilitating peaceful protests on such existential topics, not hindering and blocking them," he said. "I call on the UK government to reverse this legislation as soon as feasible"

United Nations urges UK to backtrack on new protest laws

UN human rights chief Volker Turk on Thursday urged Britain to scrap its incoming public order laws aimed at tackling disruptive protests, saying they imposed serious and disproportionate restrictions

Just Stop Oil climate activists hold a placard in London on Thursday calling on the UK to end approval for exploring fossil fuels | AFP

CONCERN OVER RIGHTS

Turk said the legislation was deeply troubling and incompatible with Britain's international human rights obligations regarding people's rights to freedom of expression, peaceful assembly and association

"This new law imposes serious and undue restrictions on these rights that are neither necessary nor proportionate," the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights said

> It is especially worrying that the law expands the powers of the police to stop and search individuals, including without suspicion... and imposes unnecessary and disproportionate criminal sanctions on people organising or taking part in peaceful protests

COSTLY PROJECT

CPEC railway through PoK to cost $57.7bn: feasibility study

BEIJING

CHINA'S plan to build a railway link to Pakistan through the disputed Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) region could cost about $57.7 billion, according to an official feasibility study, which recommended the government to go ahead with the project for its strategic significance, despite heavy costs, a media report said on Thursday.

The proposed 3,000-km railway, connecting Pakistan's port of Gwadar to Kashgar in China's Xinjiang Uygur autonomous region under the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC), was assessed by scientists from the state-owned China Railway First Survey and Design Institute Group Co Ltd.

India has protested to China over the $60 billion CPEC corridor as it is being laid through PoK. China's increasing number of projects in Pakistan with billions of dollars in loans raised concerns about the increasing indebtedness of Pakistan, which is reeling under a serious economic crisis. The CPEC is officially regarded as the flagship project of China's multi-billion-dollar Belt and Road Initiative (BRI)—the pet project of China's Xi Jinping.

The Institute Group Co Ltd team, led by its deputy director of capital operations Zhang Ling, said in its study that if the project is taken up, it will be BRI's most expensive transport infrastructure, the Hong Kong-based South China Morning Post reported on Thursday.

Despite the cost, the project had the potential to reshape trade and geopolitics across the Eurasian continent and should be supported, the research team said in a report published by the Railway Transport and Economy in April. PTI

Tense face-off: Chinese, Philippine vessels nearly collide in South China Sea

ABOARD BRP MALABRIGO

A Chinese coast guard ship blocked a Philippine patrol vessel steaming into a disputed shoal in the South China Sea, causing a frightening near-collision.

The high seas face-off on Sunday between the larger Chinese ship and the Philippine coast guard's BRP Malapascua near Second Thomas Shoal.

The Philippine coast guard had invited a small group of journalists to join the 1,670-kilometre patrol for the first time as part of a new Philippine strategy aimed at exposing China's increasingly aggressive actions in the South China Sea.

The Malapascua and another Philippine coast guard vessel, the BRP Malabrigo cruised past a string of Philippine-occupied and claimed islands.

In areas occupied or controlled by China, the Philippine patrol vessels received radio warnings in Chinese and halting English, ordering them to immediately leave what the Chinese coast guard claimed were Beijing's territories.

Hostilities peaked on Sunday in the Philippine-occupied Second Thomas Shoal. As the two patrol vessels approached the shoal's waters, Chinese coast guard repeatedly warned them by radio to leave the area.

A Chinese coast guard ship rapidly approached and shadowed the smaller Malapascua and the Malabrigo. When the Malapascua manoeuvred toward the mouth of the shoal, the Chinese ship shifted to block it, coming as close as 36 metres, said Malapascua's skipper, Capt. Rodel Hernandez.

To avoid a collision, Hernandez reversed his vessel's direction then shut off its engine to bring the boat to a full stop.

Sexual assault cases in US def rises

WASHINGTON

THE number of reported sexual assaults across the US military inched up by about 1% last year, as a sharp decline in Army numbers offset large increases in the other three services, US officials told AP.

The small overall uptick is significantly less than the 13% jump the Defence Department saw in 2021, but it's overshadowed by the fact the Air Force, the Navy and the Marine Corps all had more reports last year than the previous year, according to the two US officials.

Because the Army is much larger than the other three services, its 9% drop in reported sexual assaults last year drove the overall military increase down. That large decrease comes a year after Army leaders saw a nearly 26% jump in reports involving soldiers — the largest increase for that service since 2013.

The officials, who spoke on the condition of anonymity because the Pentagon's report on the cases had not yet been publicly released, said the Air Force saw the largest increase in reported assaults during the fiscal year that ended September 30, at 13%, while the Navy had a 9% jump and the Marine Corps went up by about 4%.

The Pentagon report is expected to be released on Thursday. Overall, there were more than 8,942 reports of sexual assaults involving service members during the 2022 fiscal year, a slight increase over the 8,866 the year before. The Pentagon and the military services have come under increasing criticism and pressure from members of Congress to reduce sexual assaults and harassment in the military.

The services have long struggled to come up with programmes to prevent sexual assaults as well as to encourage reporting, including a number of new initiatives over the past year.

Defence officials have long argued that an increase in reported assaults is a positive trend because so many people are reluctant to report them.

STATE-OWNED

Wiener Zeitung, one of the oldest newspapers, to end daily print run

VIENNA

ONE of the world's oldest newspapers still in print, Austria's Wiener Zeitung, will primarily move online, after a decision on Thursday by the country's parliament.

The development marks the final step in a years-long dispute between the Austrian government and the newspaper about the future of the state-owned daily.

Founded in 1703 under the name Wiennerisches Diarium, and later renamed Wiener Zeitung in 1780, the formerly private bi-weekly paper was nationalised by Emperor Franz Joseph I of Austria in 1857, becoming the country's official gazette. "It is adopted with a majority," Norbert Hofer, the third president of the parliament, said of a new law to primarily move the publication online from July 1.

Issue from March 14, 1938 of the Wiener Zeitung newspaper | AFP

The Wiener Zeitung was in 2004 ranked as one of the oldest newspapers still in circulation, the World Association of News Publishers told AFP.

The newspaper's role as official gazette, it's main source of revenue, will move to a separate state-owned online platform. The government argued that this was in line with a European directive to centralise and publish official information online.

Meanwhile, the Wiener Zeitung will establish a media hub, a content agency, and a training centre for journalists.

Almost half of the newspaper's over 200 employees—40 of whom are journalists—could be laid off, according to its trade union. The Wiener Zeitung has a circulation of about 20,000 on weekdays and about twice as much on weekends.

EU Commission Vice-President Vera Jourova told Austrian news agency APA that she was "not happy with the situation." AFP
